HOUSE DISCUSSES CONTRACT SYSTEM.

Washington, March 3.—The following statement today was made public at the white house:

"After inquiry of the president as to what the president's views were in regard to the political activity, especially in any factional difference within the party, of his appointees, Major Hogan stated to the president that he would be compelled to withdraw his name from consideration in connection with the appointment of internal revenue collector for the southern district of Illinois, as he desired to continue actively to participate in the politics of the state.

"The president again reiterated today to various Illinois representatives, both in congress and in executive office, that he expected his appointees in Illinois to keep clear of any active factional work; that the election of a senator from Illinois was for the Illinois people only to decide, and that he expected the federal appointees in that state to serve their party by doing their work in their respective offices in first-class shape, and by refraining from any improper factional activity in connection with matters with which the federal administration had no proper concern."

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, March 3.—Under the order made last week the house today went into committee of the whole and entered upon the consideration of the bill to classify the rural free delivery services and substitute the contract for the salary system for rural carriers.

It was arranged that general debate should be equally divided between the friends and opponents of the measure and that Mr. Loud, of California, should control the time in favor of and Mr. Swanson, of Virginia, against the bill. The former, in opening the debate, declared that in his opinion the question involved was of more importance than any which would come before the present congress. Upon the solution would depend whether the rural free delivery service would cost ultimately sixty or twenty million dollars per annum. The rural free delivery service up to this time, he said, had been a political one and it had given many members of congress their first taste of the sweets of public patronage. He traced the history and rapid growth of the service and its cost, declaring that it was the most extravagant in the public service. At the inception the carriers received $300 per annum. They now received $600. If the salary system was continued they would eventually receive $800 or $900. At the present time $850,000 was being spent for the supervisory force.

The bill was carefully drawn, Mr. Loud said, to provide against the possibility of a recurrence of the star route scandals. Only one contract could be given to one man, who must live in the district where the route was located and who must perform the service himself.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, March 3.—Soon after the senate met today a lot of miscellaneous bills were passed, most of them of minor importance. Among them were a number of appropriations for public buildings.

At 2 o'clock the shipping bill was laid before the senate as the unfinished business.

A SMALLPOX SCARE.

A young man from Huntington, named Claire Buckley, raised several kinds of consternation yesterday afternoon. At 3 o'clock Superintendent Goraline received a telephone message from Mayor Dungan, of Huntington, notifying him that Buckley was the roommate of a young man who, it was just discovered, was suffering from smallpox; that Buckley had just discovered the fact and had jumped out of town and would reach Fort Wayne on the 4 o'clock Southwestern car, which was then about due. When the officers reached the terminal at Broadway and Taylor street it was learned that a person answering the description had just taken a Belt line for down town. Superintendent Gorsline met the young man at the transfer corner and took him to the city hall. The young man admitted that he was the fellow looked for, but stated that he had been thoroughly taken care of at Huntington before leaving; that his roommate's physician had taken him to his office, where he was disinfected, fumigated sterilized, bathed and vaccinated, and that he had no particle of wearing apparel on him that had been close to the infected Huntington room. Dr. Macbeth was called and the young man was disinfected some more and then he and the superintendent left for Huntington on the next car. At Huntington the young man's story was confirmed by the attending physician, who had in the meantime informed the board of health of the circumstances which had not yet been reported to Mayor Dungan.

VISITS ST. LOUIS

PRINCE HENRY RECEIVED BY THE RIVER TOWN.

WELCOME IS ENTHUSIASTIC

HANDSOME SOUVENIR GIVEN HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS.

CHICAGO IS READY FOR HIM

ELABORATE PREPARATION FOR ROYAL GUEST.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—Prince Henry of Prussia spent four hours in St. Louis today, during which time he was royally entertained. A short reception at Union station, the presentation of an address of welcome by Mayor Wells and a similar address by a committee of German army and navy veterans, and a short reception preceded a drive through the business section of the city to the west end, where at the St. Louis club the prince and his suite, with the reception committee, took breakfast.

There Mayor Wells presented Prince Henry with a superb casket of sterling silver, ornamented with insignia and trimmings of gold, containing the address presented earlier by Mayor Wells. To this address the prince responded briefly. Carriages were again taken by the party, who were driven through the beautiful residence section of the west end into Forest park and to the waiting train, which had been hauled there for their convenience. At 11 o'clock the train left for Chicago.

When the special train of Prince Henry steamed into Union station at 7:07 a. m., there was a deafening welcome from the factory and locomotive whistles and cheers from thousands gathered at the station. As the train stopped in the center of the station it was boarded by Dr. Rieloff, the German consul, and Mayor Wells. The prince was greeted by Dr. Rieloff, who introduced Mayor Wells. After the exchange of a few words between them Mayor Wells escorted Prince Henry from the train through double lines formed by the members of the reception committee and police officers to the grand waiting room of the station, on the second floor.

THE ADDRESS.

When the entire party had assembled in the brilliantly lighted grand hall of the station, Mayor Wells, with a few words, handed the prince an official address of welcome engraved on a scroll of parchment. The address was as follows:

"In behalf of the people of St. Louis I bid you a hearty welcome to their city.

"It is our desire that your brief visit with us be as agreeable to you as it will be to those who have the honor of entertaining you, and that you will carry back to the great country you represent pleasant recollections of this city by the 'father of waters.'

"St. Louis has had changes of fortune and history unusual to cities in this country. During the last hundred years it has been under the dominion of three flags, and has passed in peaceful transition from Spanish to French and from French to American sovereignty.

"Situated upon the borderland between the north and south, and the east and west, its people are drawn from and are representative of every section of the United States. Indeed, from every quarter of the globe they have come and especially may you meet here in large numbers people from your own land and speaking your own tongue.

"From whatever section of this land they may have come, from whatever land beyond our borders, they come today with one accord to join in this welcome, for in your visit to this country they see a manifestation and expression of the sincere friendship which from the beginning had existed between Germany and the United States.

"The freedom of the city is yours, hospitality awaits you and the sole regret of the occasion is that hail must so soon be followed by farewell."

GERMAN WAR VETERANS.

Following this a committee of German war veterans, representing the Deutscher Landwehr Verein, the Deutscher Militarverein and the Kriegerverein of St. Louis and the Veteranenverein of Springfield, Mo., were presented to the prince.

They gave him a beautifully engraved scroll, showing the coats of arms and the national colors of America and Germany intertwined, with a German inscription expressing the hearty good will of the societies named. It was as follows:

"Your Royal Highness: I have the honor, in the name of the German military societies of St. Louis and Springfield, Mo., to extend to you their heartfelt greetings and a hearty welcome. At the same time will your highness greatly oblige us by accepting the address."

Prince Henry responded heartily to the address of his former fellow countrymen. He spoke a word to each member of the committee. While this was going on the prince turned to Rear Admiral Evans, who stood near by, and said: "Most of these fellows served in the same war with me."

A short reception ended the ceremonies at the Union station. Then commenced the drive to the St. Louis club.

GREETING ENTHUSIASTIC.

There was a throng walled in by buildings and police lines in the neighborhood of the St. Louis club when Prince Henry arrived, and as at the other points along the route through the city there were enthusiastic cheers.

The prince was escorted to a dressing room and ten minutes later, with Mayor Wells, led the way to the handsome hall room, where breakfast was served. A long table resembling a horseshoe extended its arms down the room and at its head Prince Henry was given a seat.

After the discussion of an elaborate menu, for which 152 covers had been laid, the president of the United States and the emperor of Germany were toasted.

THE PRINCE'S SPEECH.

Mayor Wells in a few words then presented the freedom of the city and the gold and silver casket containing the address of welcome to Prince Henry, who responded as follows:

"Mr. Mayor and Representatives of the Citizens of St. Louis: It is my desire to thank you for your kind words in welcoming me to your city. I have now reached the most western point of my visit to the United States. I am sorry that I cannot go farther westward and see more of your magnificent country, but, as you know, my time is limited.

"Since reaching America I have been traveling day and night through this wonderful country and I assure you that I have been deeply impressed by the hospitality and the kindly feeling that I have met with day and night.

"I wish to thank all of you, and also to thank all of those with whom I have not been able to talk and shake hands. Many have come to my train in the middle of the night to welcome me, and I am deeply grateful.

"You know whose representative I am. I want you all to know the object of my mission to the United States—to cement the friendly bonds existing between the two countries.

"I want you to know that Germany is ever ready to exchange greetings and to shake hands across the Atlantic whenever you are ready to do so.

"I am also the representative of a nation which is ever ready to fight, a nation of arms, but not a belligerent nation.

"My sovereign is ever an advocate

TOWNLEY ELEVATOR BURNED

SERIOUS FIRE LOSS AT ALLEN COUNTY VILLAGE.

Structure Was Owned by S. Bash & Co., and James Lennington—Loss Will be $4,000.

The grain elevators at Townley, a little village along the line of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad, near the eastern edge of Allen county, were totally destroyed by fire about 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

The structure was practically new and was owned by S. Bash & Co., of Fort Wayne, and James Lennington, of Townley. It was erected a year ago last November at a cost of $2,500. In the building were stored grains to the value of $1,500, and the loss on both building and contents is total. Insurance to the amount of $2,000 was carried through the Schrader & Wilson agency of this city.

It is presumed that sparks from a passing locomotive were responsible for the blaze. The fire is said to have caught in a portion of the building remote from the boiler and engine room. There are no fire-fighting facilities in the little village, and citizens were compelled to stand helplessly and watch the elevators burn.

WANT R. S. TAYLOR

REPUBLICANS WOULD NAME HIM FOR CONGRESS.

JUDGE POSITIVELY REFUSES

R. B. HANNA IS TALKED OF

DISTRICT CONVENTION HERE TOMORROW.

Within the past few days there has been a determined effort upon the part of quite a number of leading Fort Wayne republicans to induce Judge Robert S. Taylor to permit the presentation of his name as a candidate before the republican congressional convention, which is to be held in this city tomorrow.

It is no secret that beneath the apparently placid surface of things in the republican household there has been a strong undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the outlook, though the leaders have hesitated to inaugurate a fight over a contest that has no promise but defeat at the end of it. Judge Taylor's strength is recognized. He is easily the foremost republican in the Twelfth district and his warm personal friends among the republican leaders have preferred repeated requests that he enter the race.

But the effort has thus far failed, for Judge Taylor has stated firmly from the outset that he could not permit his name to be presented; that he appreciated the kindly interest of his friends, but that his professional affairs engaged his attention closely and he could not make the sacrifice necessary to an acceptance of the nomination and a campaign which would follow. Yet, even in the face of Judge Taylor's positive declaration, it is said some of his enthusiastic supporters have not yet given up hope that Judge Taylor will reconsider his decision. This fact, together with other conditions which are cropping out, has injected an element of uncertainty into the question that is furnishing material for a whole lot of speculation on the situation today.

LOOKS LIKE M'GOOGAN.

The convention will be called to order Tuesday afternoon in the court house assembly room, and so far as can be forecasted in a general resume of the field from this point today, the probability is that Dr. G. B. McGoogan, of this city, will be the nominee. Clarence C. Gilhams, at present auditor of Lagrange county, is the only other avowed candidate, and if there is a nook or corner of the district which these two gentlemen have not visited in their unusually energetic canvass for the honor, it yet remains to be discovered. And both maintain a supreme confidence in the outcome that is cheering, though neither is disposed to be overly specific in making predictions as to the vote of the several counties.

Dr. McGoogan today declined to go into details as to his expectations, but one of his close friends was more communicative. Delegates were chosen in nearly all the townships Saturday afternoon, though there appears to have been an occasional instance where the formality was overlooked through an oversight. Reports from the townships are very slow in reaching the city, and the personnel of anything like a complete Allen county delegation can not be given at this hour. George Keller, a McGoogan delegate, was chosen from Wayne township; a Mr. Wyatt, unpledged, from Perry, and a Mr. Sines from Lake.

SOME HANNA DELEGATES.

In one or two of the outside townships the delegates elected are for R. B. Hanna if he will consent to make the race for the place for the second time. It is also said that Mr. Hanna has only to announce himself in order to capture a considerable following from some of the northern counties. Throughout the preliminary skirmishing for the place on the ticket Mr. Hanna has maintained a discreet silence regarding his intentions, and so far as is known has not declared himself. Many republicans believe that in view of his race two years ago Mr. Hanna should be given another try at the prize. No one could be found today who would say that Mr. Hanna's name would be announced tomorrow, but it would not be surprising if it were done. The general expression of the leaders today, however, was to the effect that in their opinion there would be but two candidates before the convention.

GUESS ON THE PRECINCTS.

In the various wards of the city primaries will be held this evening for the selection of delegates both to the congressional and state conventions. These are very likely to be McGoogan delegates to a large extent, and it is said the McGoogan chances have brightened materially within the past week. In one or two wards, however, it is practically certain that the opposition will win out. It is reasonably certain that Dr. McGoogan will have very nearly all the city delegates, and though the county delegates are considerably mixed as to preference, the attitude of the city contingent is likely to govern the entire Allen county delegation to a very large extent. With the city safely his, Dr. McGoogan will probably have Allen county very nearly solidly.

There are to be a total of 111 votes in the convention, and fifty-six will nominate. Allen county's proportion is 41, and it is understood that the Gilham people are claiming but ten of these. From the present outlook Dr. McGoogan will get 4 in Steuben, at least half in Noble, and a majority in Whitley and DeKalb. Possibly the entire DeKalb vote may be cast for the Fort Wayne man. Gilhams will have the twelve votes of Lagrange solidly, and will probably get a majority in Steuben. The contest is even enough to make a race, but the chances seem to very largely favor the selection of Dr. McGoogan.

LATER RETURNS IN.

Up to this afternoon returns have been received from ten of the twenty townships of the county. Eight of these elected delegates favorable to Dr. McGoogan's candidacy; one uninstructed and one in doubt. The townships are:

Uninstructed—Perry.

In Doubt—Adams.

MR. GILHAMS IN TOWN.

Mr. Gilhams arrived in the city at noon today from Lagrange in order to be early upon the field of battle, and he is registered at the New Aveline hotel. With him are Messrs. John H. Berick and F. D. Merritt, both prominent Lagrange republicans. Asked this afternoon as to the outlook from his point of view, Mr. Gilhams replied: "Very good." Mr. Gilhams stated that he would not open formal headquarters unless it should be deemed necessary tomorrow.

KITCHENER GIVES DETAILS

BOERS FALL ON A BRITISH DETACHMENT.

HAMMERED IT TO PIECES

THE BURGHERS GATHERED IN HEAVY FORCE.

London, March 3.—In a dispatch from Pretoria, dated today, Lord Kitchener sends details of the disaster to the escort of the convoy of empty wagons at Vondonop, southeast of Klerksdorp, Transvaal colony. The British casualties in killed, wounded and men made prisoners reach the total of 632. In addition the Boers captured two guns. Lieutenant Colonel Anderson, who commanded the British force and who has returned to Kraaipan, Cape Colony, with nine officers and 245 men, reports that when his advanced guard was within ten miles of Klerksdorp, during the morning of February 25, the boers opened a heavy rifle fire on the troops from the scrub. The burghers were driven off and the convoy resumed its march, when a more determined attack was made on the convoy's left flank, the Boers getting within 100 yards and stampeding the mules harnessed to a number of wagons. The attacking forces were again driven off. At about 6:30 in the morning the rear guard was attacked by a strong force of Boers, and, simultaneously, another body of Boers boldly charged the center of the convoy and stampeded the mules in all directions, throwing the escort into confusion, during which the Boers charged and re-charged, riding down the separated British units. The fighting lasted for two hours, during which the two British guns and a pom-pom almost exhausted their ammunition. A detachment of 900 mounted infantry from Klerksdorp attempted to reinforce the British, but were held in check by the Boers.

Lieutenant Colonel Anderson adds that the strength of the Boers was estimated at from 1,900 to 1,700. Commandants Delarey, Kemps, Celliers, Lemmer, Wolmarans and Potgieter were all present. Commandant Lemmer is said to have been killed.

SHOWS DISLIKE OF ROYALTY.

Toledo, March 3.—At the meeting of several German societies last night to make arrangements for the coming of Prince Henry a sensation was sprung by one of the representatives active in the preparations, who said that Mayor Jones had refused to sign an address of welcome which has been forwarded to the prince. This invitation was an elaborately embossed affair, which was signed by the presidents of all the German societies of the city and many of the influential citizens. The representative who was delegated to obtain the autographs says he called on the mayor and he refused to affix his autograph, saying he "did not believe in kings and princes." This announcement brought out a storm of condemnation and resolutions were passed severely criticising the chief executive for his action.

OPPOSED TO REORGANIZATION.

A meeting of the Women's Club league was held Saturday afternoon in the Commercial club rooms, the important matter under consideration being whether or not the league be reorganized as a woman's club. There is decided opposition to the movement by nearly all the clubs in the league, and although the matter was not voted on Saturday, the proposition is undoubtedly doomed to failure. There was a spirited discussion, during which several delegates gave decided opinions on the matter, but the chief objection to the change is that it will mean the disbanding of several of the smaller clubs. The regular afternoon program was in charge of the social science department, of which Mrs. George Felts is chairman, and addresses were made by Mrs. Felts on "The Kindergarten Outlook," by Mrs. D. N. Foster, on "The Coming School," and by Mrs. M. B. Gerdink, on "The Jail Inspection."

HANDSOME SOUVENIR GIVEN HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS.

CHICAGO IS READY FOR HIM.

ELABORATE PREPARATION FOR ROYAL GUEST.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—Prince Henry of Prussia spent four hours in St. Louis today, during which time he was royally entertained. A short reception at Union station, the presentation of an address of welcome by Mayor Wells and a similar address by a committee of German army and navy veterans, and a short reception preceded a drive through the business section of the city to the west end, where at the St. Louis club the prince and his suite, with the reception committee, took breakfast.

There Mayor Wells presented Prince Henry with a superb casket of sterling silver, ornamented with insignia and trimmings of gold, containing the address presented earlier by Mayor Wells. To this address the prince responded briefly. Carriages were again taken by the party, who were driven through the beautiful residence section of the west end into Forest park and to the waiting train, which had been hauled there for their convenience. At 11 o'clock the train left for Chicago.

When the special train of Prince Henry steamed into Union station at 7:07 a. m., there was a deafening welcome from the factory and locomotive whistles and cheers from thousands gathered at the station. As the train stopped in the center of the station it was boarded by Dr. Rieluff, the German consul, and Mayor Wells. The prince was greeted by Dr. Rieloff, who introduced Mayor Wells. After the exchange of a few words between them Mayor Wells escorted Prince Henry from the train through double lines formed by the members of the reception committee and police officers to the grand waiting room of the station, on the second floor.

THE ADDRESS.

When the entire party had assembled in the brilliantly lighted grand hall of the station, Mayor Wells, with a few words, handed the prince an official address of welcome engraved on a scroll of parchment. The address was as follows:

"In behalf of the people of St. Louis I bid you a hearty welcome to their city.

"It is our desire that your brief visit with us be as agreeable to you as it will be to those who have the honor of entertaining you, and that you will carry back to the great country you represent pleasant recollections of this city by the 'father of waters.'

"St. Louis has had changes of fortune and history unusual to cities in this country. During the last hundred years it has been under the dominion of three flags, and has passed in peaceful transition from Spanish to French and from French to American sovereignty.

"Situated upon the borderland between the north and south, and the east and west, its people are drawn from and are representative of every section of the United States. Indeed, from every quarter of the globe they have come and especially may you meet here in large numbers people from your own land and speaking your own tongue.

"From whatever section of this land they may have come, from whatever land beyond our borders, they come today with one accord to join in this welcome, for in your visit to this country they see a manifestation and expression of the sincere friendship which from the beginning had existed between Germany and the United States.

"The freedom of the city is yours, hospitality awaits you and the sole regret of the occasion is that hail must so soon be followed by farewell."

GERMAN WAR VETERANS.

Following this a committee of German war veterans, representing the Deutscher Landwehr Verein, the Deutscher Militarverein and the Kriegerverein of St. Louis and the Veteranenverein of Springfield, Mo., were presented to the prince.

They gave him a beautifully engraved scroll, showing the coats of arms and the national colors of America and Germany intertwined, with a German inscription expressing the hearty good will of the societies named. It was as follows:

"Your Royal Highness: I have the honor, in the name of the German military societies of St. Louis and Springfield, Mo., to extend to you their heartfelt greetings and a hearty welcome. At the same time will your highness greatly oblige us by accepting the address."

Prince Henry responded heartily to the address of his former fellow countrymen. He spoke a word to each member of the committee. While this was going on the prince turned to Rear Admiral Evans, who stood near by, and said: "Most of these fellows served in the same war with me."

A short reception ended the ceremonies at the Union station. Then commenced the drive to the St. Louis club.

GREETING ENTHUSIASTIC.

There was a throng walled in by buildings and police lines in the neighborhood of the St. Louis club when Prince Henry arrived, and as at the other points along the route through the city there were enthusiastic cheers.

The prince was escorted to a dressing room and ten minutes later, with Mayor Wells, led the way to the handsome ball room, where breakfast was served. A long table resembling a horseshoe extended its arms down the room and at its head Prince Henry was given a seat.

After the discussion of an elaborate menu, for which 152 covers had been laid, the president of the United States and the emperor of Germany were toasted.

THE PRINCE'S SPEECH.

Mayor Wells in a few words then presented the freedom of the city and the gold and silver casket containing the address of welcome to Prince Henry, who responded as follows:

"Mr. Mayor and Representatives of the Citizens of St. Louis: It is my desire to thank you for your kind words in welcoming me to your city. I have now reached the most western point of my visit to the United States. I am sorry that I cannot go farther westward and see more of your magnificent country, but, as you know, my time is limited.

"Since reaching America I have been traveling day and night through this wonderful country and I assure you that I have been deeply impressed by the hospitality and the kindly feeling that I have met with day and night.

"I wish to thank all of you, and also to thank all of those with whom I have not been able to talk and shake hands. Many have come to my train in the middle of the night to welcome me, and I am deeply grateful.

"You know whose representative I am. I want you all to know the object of my mission to the United States—to cement the friendly bonds existing between the two countries.

"I want you to know that Germany is ever ready to exchange greetings and to shake hands across the Atlantic whenever you are ready to do so.

"I am also the representative of a nation which is ever ready to fight, a nation of arms, but not a belligerent nation.

"My sovereign is ever an advocate

TOWNLEY ELEVATOR BURNED

SERIOUS FIRE LOSS AT ALLEN COUNTY VILLAGE.

Structure Was Owned by S. Bash & Co., and James Lennington—Loss Will be $4,000.

The grain elevators at Townley, a little village along the line of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad, near the eastern edge of Allen county, were totally destroyed by fire about 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

The structure was practically new and was owned by S. Bash & Co., of Fort Wayne, and James Lennington, of Townley. It was erected a year ago last November at a cost of $2,500. In the building were stored grains to the value of $1,500, and the loss on both building and contents is total. Insurance to the amount of $2,000 was carried through the Schrader & Wilson agency of this city.

It is presumed that sparks from a passing locomotive were responsible for the blaze. The fire is said to have caught in a portion of the building remote from the boiler and engine room. There are no fire-fighting facilities in the little village, and citizens were compelled to stand helplessly and watch the elevators burn.

WANT R. S. TAYLOR

REPUBLICANS WOULD NAME HIM FOR CONGRESS.

R. B. HANNA IS TALKED OF

DISTRICT CONVENTION HERE TOMORROW.

Within the past few days there has been a determined effort upon the part of quite a number of leading Fort Wayne republicans to induce Judge Robert S. Taylor to permit the presentation of his name as a candidate before the republican congressional convention, which is to be held in this city tomorrow.

It is no secret that beneath the apparently placid surface of things in the republican household there has been a strong undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the outlook, though the leaders have hesitated to inaugurate a fight over a contest that has no promise but defeat at the end of it. Judge Taylor's strength is recognized. He is easily the foremost republican in the Twelfth district and his warm personal friends among the republican leaders have preferred repeated requests that he enter the race.

But the effort has thus far failed, for Judge Taylor has stated firmly from the outset that he could not permit his name to be presented; that he appreciated the kindly interest of his friends, but that his professional affairs engaged his attention closely and he could not make the sacrifice necessary to an acceptance of the nomination and a campaign which would follow. Yet, even in the face of Judge Taylor's positive declaration, it is said some of his enthusiastic supporters have not yet given up hope that Judge Taylor will reconsider his decision. This fact, together with other conditions which are cropping out, has injected an element of uncertainty into the question that is furnishing material for a whole lot of speculation on the situation today.

LOOKS LIKE M'GOOGAN.

The convention will be called to order Tuesday afternoon in the court house assembly room, and so far as can be forecasted in a general resume of the field from this point today, the probability is that Dr. G. B. McGoogan, of this city, will be the nominee. Clarence C. Gilhams, at present auditor of Lagrange county, is the only other avowed candidate, and if there is a nook or corner of the district which these two gentlemen have not visited in their unusually energetic canvass for the honor, it yet remains to be discovered. And both maintain a supreme confidence in the outcome that is cheering, though neither is disposed to be overly specific in making predictions as to the vote of the several counties.

Dr. McGoogan today declined to go into details as to his expectations, but one of his close friends was more communicative. Delegates were chosen in nearly all the townships Saturday afternoon, though there appears to have been an occasional instance where the formality was overlooked through an oversight. Reports from the townships are very slow in reaching the city, and the personnel of anything like a complete Allen county delegation can not be given at this hour. George Keller, a McGoogan delegate, was chosen from Wayne township; a Mr. Wyatt, unpledged, from Perry, and a Mr. Sines from Lake.

SOME HANNA DELEGATES.

In one or two of the outside townships the delegates elected are for R. B. Hanna if he will consent to make the race for the place for the second time. It is also said that Mr. Hanna has only to announce himself in order to capture a considerable following from some of the northern counties. Throughout the preliminary skirmishing for the place on the ticket Mr. Hanna has maintained a discreet silence regarding his intentions, and so far as is known has not declared himself. Many republicans believe that in view of his race two years ago Mr. Hanna should be given another try at the prize. No one could be found today who would say that Mr. Hanna's name would be announced tomorrow, but it would not be surprising if it were done. The general expression of the leaders today, however, was to the effect that in their opinion there would be but two candidates before the convention.

GUESS ON THE FIGURES.

In the various wards of the city primaries will be held this evening for the selection of delegates both to the congressional and state conventions. These are very likely to be McGoogan delegates to a large extent, and it is said the McGoogan chances have brightened materially within the past week. In one or two wards, however, it is practically certain that the opposition will win out. It is reasonably certain that Dr. McGoogan will have very nearly all the city delegates, and though the county delegates are considerably mixed as to preference, the attitude of the city contingent is likely to govern the entire Allen county delegation to a very large extent. With the city safely his, Dr. McGoogan will probably have Allen county very nearly solidly.

There are to be a total of 111 votes in the convention, and fifty-six will nominate. Allen county's proportion is 41, and it is understood that the Gilham people are claiming but ten of these. From the present outlook Dr. McGoogan will get 4 in Steuben, at least half in Noble, and a majority in Whitley and DeKalb. Possibly the entire DeKalb vote may be cast for the Fort Wayne man. Gilhams will have the twelve votes of Lagrange solidly, and will probably get a majority in Steuben. The contest is even enough to make a race, but the chances seem to very largely favor the selection of Dr. McGoogan.

LATER RETURNS IN.

Up to this afternoon returns have been received from ten of the twenty townships of the county. Eight of these elected delegates favorable to Dr. McGoogan's candidacy; one uninstructed and one in doubt. The townships are:

Uninstructed—Perry.

In Doubt—Adams.

MR. GILHAMS IN TOWN.

Mr. Gilhams arrived in the city at noon today from Lagrange in order to be early upon the field of battle, and he is registered at the New Aveline hotel. With him are Messrs. John H. Rerick and F. D. Merritt, both prominent Lagrange republicans. Asked this afternoon as to the outlook from his point of view, Mr. Gilhams replied: "Very good." Mr. Gilhams stated that he would not open formal headquarters unless it should be deemed necessary tomorrow.

THE WILY BOERS

A GOOD RUN AND A HARD AND COSTLY CONTEST.

BOERS FALL ON A BRITISH DETACHMENT.

HAMMERED IT TO PIECES

THE BURGHERS GATHERED IN HEAVY FORCE.

London, March 3.—In a dispatch from Pretoria, dated today, Lord Kitchener sends details of the disaster to the escort of the convoy of empty wagons at Vondonop, southeast of Klerksdorp, Transvaal colony. The British casualties in killed, wounded and men made prisoners reach the total of 632. In addition the Boers captured two guns. Lieutenant Colonel Anderson, who commanded the British force and who has returned to Kraaipan, Cape Colony, with nine officers and 245 men, reports that when his advanced guard was within ten miles of Klerksdorp, during the morning of February 25, the boers opened a heavy rifle fire on the troops from the scrub. The burghers were driven off and the convoy resumed its march, when a more determined attack was made on the convoy's left flank, the Boers getting within 100 yards and stampeding the mules harnessed to a number of wagons. The attacking forces were again driven off. At about 6:30 in the morning the rear guard was attacked by a strong force of Boers, and, simultaneously, another body of Boers boldly charged the center of the convoy and stampeded the mules in all directions, throwing the escort into confusion, during which the Boers charged and re-charged, riding down the separated British units. The fighting lasted for two hours, during which the two British guns and a pom-pom almost exhausted their ammunition. A detachment of 200 mounted infantry from Klerksdorp attempted to reinforce the British, but were held in check by the Boers.

Lieutenant Colonel Anderson adds that the strength of the Boers was estimated at from 1,200 to 1,700. Commandants Delary, Kemps, Celliers, Lemmer, Wolmarans and Potgieter were all present. Commandant Lemmer is said to have been killed.

SHOWS DISLIKE OF ROYALTY.

Toledo, March 3.—At the meeting of several German societies last night to make arrangements for the coming of Prince Henry a sensation was sprung by one of the representatives active in the preparations, who said that Mayor Jones had refused to sign an address of welcome which has been forwarded to the prince. This invitation was an elaborately embossed affair, which was signed by the presidents of all the German societies of the city and many of the influential citizens. The representative who was delegated to obtain the autographs says he called on the mayor and he refused to affix his autograph, saying he "did not believe in kings and princes." This announcement brought out a storm of condemnation and resolutions were passed severely criticising the chief executive for his action.

OPPOSED TO REORGANIZATION.

A meeting of the Women's Club league was held Saturday afternoon in the Commercial club rooms, the important matter under consideration being whether or not the league be reorganized as a woman's club. There is decided opposition to the movement by nearly all the clubs in the league, and although the matter was not voted on Saturday, the proposition is undoubtedly doomed to failure. There was a spirited discussion, during which several delegates gave decided opinions on the matter, but the chief objection to the change is that it will mean the disbanding of several of the smaller clubs. The regular afternoon program was in charge of the social science department, of which Mrs. George Felts is chairman, and addresses were made by Mrs. Felts on "The Kindergarten Canvass;" by Mrs. D. N. Foster, on "The Cooking School," and by Mrs. M. B. Gorsline, on "The Jail Inspection."

AN INDIAN EXPEDITION.

Dr. Ales Hrdlicka has started on his fourth expedition among the Indians of the southwestern United States and northern Mexico. These expeditions are a part of the system of anthropological exploration and investigation known as the Hyde expedition. They are carried on under the direction of Prof. F. W. Putnam for the American museum of natural history. The expenses of the present undertaking are generously provided for by Mr. F. E. Hyde, jr., of New York city.

Dr. Hrdlicka's plan, now more than half fulfilled, is in the main, to ascertain the physical characteristics of the extinct as well as the living peoples in that area which was once occupied by the cliff dwellers and Pueblos, and by the Toltec, Aztec and Chechemec peoples. It is hoped that on the present journey this part of the research in the field will be completed.

"I am deeply impressed by the vastness of your country and the largeness of its commerce and resources. This greatness grows upon me daily as I travel through your land.

"I find that the United States is worth having as a friend.

"Now let us drink to the city of St. Louis and its prosperity."

At the conclusion of these ceremonies the entire party re-entered their carriages for a drive to the train, which in the meantime had been transferred to Forest park. The route followed took Prince Henry and the others through the finest residence section of the west end and over the world's fair site in Forest park to the train.

At 10:40 the prince's special train pulled out for Chicago, with Springfield, Ill., scheduled as the first stop.

PREPARATIONS ELABORATE.

Preparations for the entertainment of the prince have been elaborate; precautions for his safety exhaustive.

Hundreds of workmen were busy today decorating buildings along streets over which the distinguished visitor will pass, and cleaning pavements, while a small army of skilled artisans is putting the finishing touches on the splendid draperies and symbolic designs in the various halls where he will be entertained. Prince Henry, upon his arrival, will be presented with the freedom of the city by Mayor Harrison, after which he will be driven through a gauntlet of German-American citizens carrying torches, to his apartments in the Auditorium hotel. The suite reserved for the prince contain four rooms, while fifty additional rooms have been set aside for his servants, his military escort and distinguished men in his party.

BALL THE CROWNING FEATURE

The ball tonight will be the crowning feature of the program, if elaborate preparations can make it so. The committee's program allows the prince only six hours sleep tonight, but in addition the time between 9 and 11 a. m. tomorrow has been left open to the visitor's pleasure. It is expected, however, that he will find a few minutes in which to receive Governor Van Sant, of Minnesota, and a committee who have an address from German-American citizens to present.

According to Prof. Cox, the weather forecaster, the temperature tonight will be slightly below the freezing point, but with no rain or snow of any consequence. For tomorrow the weather will be warmer,

PRINCE AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, March 3.—Prince Henry and his party were guests of the south Sunday. Cordial receptions marked their course through the states of Tennessee and Kentucky, and, in spite of the lateness of the hour of their arrival in Indianapolis, fully 15,000 persons were at the station to welcome them.

After a visit to Lookout Mountain, where the prince had a fine view of the battlefields, stops were made at Nashville and Louisville on the northward journey. At this city the course was changed to the westward, and shortly before midnight the special train was sent on the way to St. Louis.

At every station along the route a crowd was gathered to salute the prince with cheers. There was much enthusiasm over Admiral Evans as well, and at several points after they had seen and cheered the prince the people called for the admiral. Brief though it was, Prince Henry was delighted with his southern tour.

"The people have been very kind to me. Everywhere they have received me in the kindliest manner, and I very deeply appreciate it. I wish they might all know how thankful I am."

GIVEN HANDSOME SOUVENIR.

The visitors reached Indianapolis at 11:05 p. m. They were met by a reception committee headed by Mayor Bookwalter and by a throng that filled the grounds about the station. The mayor made a formal address of welcome, to which the prince responded with a brief expression of gratification.

As a souvenir of his visit the prince was presented with an album, which is a fine specimen of engraver's and bookbinder's art. It is a large volume in purple, gold and white, containing the address of welcome of the mayor and photographs of the state capitol, the court house, the monument, the war and peace groups and the entablature on the monument. A more ornate and pretentious production of its kind has never been attempted in this city. A gold plate, five and one-half by three and one-fourth inches in diameter, which is attached to the cover by eight small gold rivets, bears the following inscription:

: To His Royal Highness, :
: Prince Henry of Prussia, :
: From the City of Indianapolis, March 2, 1902. :

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the royal party at 11:20 resumed its journey.

ON LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 3.—The special train bearing Prince Henry and his party arrived here at 8 a. m. yesterday. The guests were formally welcomed by a reception committee headed by Newell Sanders, Pension Commissioner H. Clay Evans and Gen. H. V. Boynton. There was a great throng in and about the depot, and it broke into cheers when the prince appeared at the rear of his car and saluted. He and his party were taken by special electric train to the inclined railway that climbs the rugged face of Lookout Mountain.

They made the ascent in two cars, the prince, escorted by General Boynton and Commissioner Evans, riding on the rear platform of the first. The morning was fairly clear when the car began the ascent and the splendid panoramic view quickly came into vision. As the prince reached the crest of the mountain the sun broke through the grayish clouds, and for a short time the view was excellent. Missionary Ridge, Orchard Knob and Raccoon Mountain were outlined clear and bold, and below the Tennessee river could be traced in its meanderings for miles.

TELLS BATTLE STORY.

General Boynton accompanied the prince along the ridge of the mountain and briefly related the story of the campaign. Prince Henry followed the recital with the keenest interest, and with map before him studied out the strategy and progress of the fight. He asked many questions, and at his direction his aid, Lieutenant Commander von Egidy, noted down figures as to the number of men engaged, the losses on either side and other information as to the battles and campaign. As he stood at Rock Point and looked across the Valley of the Tennessee he exclaimed: "This is magnificent. There is nothing in all Europe that is finer. I have never seen such a battlefield."

While the party was at Rock Point a snow squall blew up, and the picture changed in a moment. Dark clouds of the storm rolled in around the peaks, the sky blackened and snow began to fall Through the storm the recital went on, and the young prince and the gray-haired veteran, who talked of a day nearly forty years gone, and the uniformed staff standing about made an impressive group.

TILT WITH PHOTOGRAPHER.

The party was photographed at the park, and one of the photographers, a local man, was sharply rebuked by the prince. The photographer did not like the way the prince stood and in rather loud tones repeatedly asked him to change. The prince changed position several times, but finally said:

"I have changed five times, I think. You will take me right here if you care to. You have had several photographs already."

Later the prince told one of the president's delegates that he was very sorry he had shown any spirit, but he was assured that he had ample cause to be annoyed and that there was no reason for either regret or apology.

A LIVELY FAMILY SQUALL

VENERABLE MR. STOLL IS IN POLICE COURT.

Affair Appears to Have Been Somewhat Magnified—Other Cases in the Court.

It was a polyglot crowd that was assembled at police court this morning and Acting Judge Bittenger had a busy time separating dialects into consonant groups. He suggested that a Hicks amalgamator that could do a little oscillatory and vibratory work and was well equipped with filters and screens for distributing and assimilating the odds and ends that were generally scattered around the linguistic parlors when he was on the bench, would command an immediate customer. The star was Jacob Stoll, who, with his wife, lives on Home avenue. Stoll was arrested on Saturday evening and it was charged that he had first tried to kill his wife with a shot gun and then had visited the homes of his two sons-in-law with similarly murderous intentions. Later developments showed that the prisoner, who is an old man, was not homicidically inclined and that whatever disturbance he had created was not serious in character. Originally the story was that Stoll had procured a shot gun, loaded it and then chased his wife out of the house; she went to the home of her daughter in an adjoining lot where Stoll went after her, but was told that she was not there. He then went to the home of another daughter, a square or two distant, and did not find her there. He then declared his intention of killing the first son-in-law's horse, and after that was accomplished, of making a wreck of the other son-in-law's house, and neither proposition was sustained. It was shown, however, that the old gentleman had got into a tantrum on Saturday afternoon and during it, had broken the stable door of Charles W. Greider's barn and had broken a window or two in the residence of J. F. Gumpper, both persons being the sons-in-law above referred to. This morning three charges were presented Two charged malicious tresspass and the other charged assault on the wife. The latter case was dismissed after all the evidence was heard and on the other two cases fines of $1 and costs and $5 and costs respectively, were assessed. The dockets were stayed by the two sons-in-law, who were made the prosecuting witnesses, both of whom own property, as does the old gentleman, for that matter. A desperate attempt to make a grievous case out of the affair was made without success, the wife being the principal witness. She stated that on Saturday afternoon her husband came home and got his shot gun, which he proceeded to load with but one shell. He then placed the gun in a corner and went out. She then left the house and went to her daughter's house, whose lot joined hers. In explanation she said she left the house because she was afraid of the loaded gun; that she was always afraid of a loaded gun and would not remain in the house where there was one. "You were afraid of your husband, wern't you?" asked the prosecution. "Afrait uf my ole man! No, no! Wit him I haf lifted more as tirty-eight years und he neffer yet make his hand on me—wot for I be afrait uf him? You know wen ole peeples lif togetter so long like dot dey don't been afrait uf themselfs. I wos afrait of dot gun but not uf mine ole man. He get verry mad sometimes und I don't like to be wit him den, but he nefer do notting to me," and she meant it. The witness was a little old woman, slightly humpbacked with the evidence of many years of hard work depicted in every lineament of her face and pose of her body, but there was an earnestness in her voice and a look in her eye that bespoke no ill to her life partner.

J. F. Gumpper, a son-in-law, gave his testimony reluctantly. He said that the old gentleman had got into a tantrum and came to his house on Saturday evening with a shot gun on his shoulder. That he put some dents in his front door and broke the glass in the door, previously having broken the glass in a window; that he was not afraid of the man, gun and all and went right up to him and took the gun away from him, and upon opening the breech found that it was not loaded. Charles W. Greider, the other son-in-law, testified that the prisoner had broken into his stable and that he had been told that the old gentleman had intended to kill his horse, but that he had done no damage further than that done to the stable door. Mr. Stoll then asked for the privilege of making a few remarks, and it was granted. He was sworn and was then told to proceed and tell his story in his own way. If he had not been headed off he would be telling that story yet. It was a marvel. "I vos vant to go up py Mitchigen to shott some ducks und I don't know vedder dem tractions cars by Jackson ven dey go, und so I go py John Trautmen und by me some shells und I don't can't remember vedder my gun he was a No. 16 shells udder a No. 18 shells, so I yust got ten 16's. You see ven dem cars go from Jackson oudden—"

"Never mind," said the court, "you'll have to confine yourself to this case; what did you do last Saturday night?"

"O yes, I know, but I yust vant to start at der right blace. Vell I took dem shells home und I try one in de gun; I find him vos de right von und den I vent avay ovver I vent to de barn und I look at dot pony und he was such a nice little fellow dot I don't can't shoot dat nice little pony. Den I vent down by Gumpper's und I valk right oop by dot front door und dot always come open easy before und I tink him not been locked und I yust vent to valk right in und he don't open und my gun he bump oop against dor glass und he break und dot is all vot it is. Und my vife, ve been married so long und neffer have I say und she say it dot I neffer hurt her; not mine vife. Sometimes I was varm und ven a man can't get no supper he gets varm ain't it. I haf not eat no supper yet not since Saturday morning fer preakfast, but I can stand it some more. Dot's all den if I must stop. But if I know how dem cars run out from Jackson—" The court interrupted by saying that the cars were not in the case and assessed the fines above stated and the case was disposed of. Shortly thereafter the old man and the little woman and the two sons-in-law walked out of the court room arm in arm.

John Trobridge and his half-brother, George James, a member of the fire department at Adrian, Mich., were taken out of the Newspaper Union office this morning by Lieutenant Lapp, who responded to a call from the office. When it came their turn they were waked up to plead to the charge of intoxication made against them and both pleaded not guilty. Lieutenant Lapp said that after he took them out of the office he told them to go home, whereupon they commenced to abuse him, and he was finally obliged to lock them up. The Adrian man was so drunk that he could scarcely get upstairs when brought to the court room, but insisted that he had not been drunk for years and had never in his whole life drank as much as a pint of whisky. He could not explain away the fact that he had a pint in his pocket when arrested. He drew one of the $5 packages, as did the other man.

Jack Murphy was much surprised when he woke up in the police station this morning. He pleaded guilty to being drunk, but put in an unusual plea for leniency. He got a dollar and costs.

George Reber was found operating a human merry-go-round on Columbia street Saturday afternoon. Saloonkeeper Ryan would throw him out the front door and Reber would come in the back door. Then Ryan would throw him out the back door and Reber would pop in the front door. This exciting diversion was kept up so long that Ryan got dizzy and called in the officer on the beat, who run Reber in. He got $1 and costs.

Joseph Brown, who has been out on suspended sentence since last June, was locked up again on Saturday. He was drunk and was found abusing his wife. The couple, with several children, live in a room on Columbia street and they have a sorry time of it. Brown admitted that he had not worked for some weeks and that he did not know how his wife managed to get along and feed herself and children. Inquiry developed the fact that there would be no increased suffering if Brown was locked up, so the judge sent him over for twenty-one days.

The police department was notified early yesterday morning that an entrance had been forced into the Summit City soap works, near Glasgow avenue, and a detail of police and Detective Coling were at once dispatched to the place. The report was found entirely true, but little damage was done. The door had been forced and the handle and combination knob of the safe had been knocked off with an ax. Nitro-glycerine had been introduced and a fuse had been attached, but had not been lighted. The tools used in doing the job, which consisted principally of an ax belonging to the factory, were found on the floor, as was also a small quantity of unused nitro-glycerine, but the most diligent search of the surroundings failed to reveal the presence of the burglars. Just why the mine was not touched off has not been made apparent, but it is likely that the burglars were frightened away a long while before the police arrived. Gustave Berghoff, proprietor of the plant, says that there was no money in the safe and only a few papers of no value to anyone but himself. If the fuse had been lighted there would have been a beautiful explosion, anyway, as there was enough nitro-glycerine used to blow a hole clean through the bottom of Adams township. It is the opinion of the police officers that the job was done by hoboes. There is no clue.

Mary Leon, a young lady from Bellefontaine, Ohio, reported the loss of her pocketbook last Saturday night. The purse contained $7 and the young lady thinks she lost it in the vicinty of the south depots.

Officer Dickson Sunday morning arrested a couple of lads whom he caught pilfering newspapers from doorways where the early carriers had left them. Officer Dickson would deserve the thanks of the people in many other sections of the city if he could catch some of the juvenile thieves and stop their annoying practices.

OPEN BIDS ON HIGH SCHOOL

J. M. HENRY AND KELLER & BRAUN ARE LOWEST.

Board Has Bids Under Advisement —Will Probably Make Awards Tuesday Evening.

Bids for the construction of the new Fort Wayne high school and manual training school building, to be erected at Lewis and Barr streets, were received by the board of school trustees at their office in the high school building Saturday evening.

Nine bids were submitted, seven of them embracing the entire work and two being for the mason work alone. On the divided bids James M. Henry is lowest on the general construction, with his bid of $74,896; and Keller & Braun submitted the low estimate on the mason work—$62,993. The bids were as follows:

Carpenter work, including steel structural work, etc.—James M. Henry, hollow tile system, $85,100; Roebling system, 87,385; H. F. Hilgemann & Bro., $102,896; E. F. Liebman, $111,346; William Geake, $108,000; Wehrenberg & Busching, $112,000; Fred Miller & Sons, $109,-435; W. H. Roney, Chicago, $98,-500.

Mason work, including excavation, brick work and cut stone—J. M. Henry, $74,896; H. F. Hilgemann & Bro., $68,178; William Geake, $68,-500; Keller & Braun, $62,993; Wehrenberg & Busching, $63,093; Fred Miller & Sons, $65,399; Irmscher & Westhoff, $66,998; W. H. Loney, $66,998.

Conditional bids were also asked for plate glass upon the Barr and Lewis street fronts, with the following results:

Hilgemann & Bro., $1,818; E. F. Liebman, $2,246; William Geake, $2,182; Wehrenberg & Busching, $2,100; Fred Miller & Sons, $2,218; W. H. Roney, of Chicago, $2,100.

W. H. Roney, of Chicago, submitted one general bid, covering the entire cost and his figure was $166,-950.

None of the estimates include heating, wiring, etc. The board has taken the bids under advisement, and it is expected that they will award the contract at the meeting on Tuesday evening.

A SNAKE YARN.

The usual travelers were telling the usual snake stories round the usual camp fire. One of them apparently had nothing to tell, for he declined to take any part in the conversation until the experiences of the others had become exhausted. Then he roused himself reluctantly. "I did once kill a snake," he confessed indifferently. "I saw it lying by the side of the road and I picked up a stick and broke its back." "Well, there's nothing remarkable about that," said the others, looking disappointed. "Nothing whatever," admitted the man who had told the tale, "except that the stick I picked up happened to be a cobra."—London Chronicle.

OBSTINATE DISEASES, even in their most aggravated forms of the head, throat and lungs, female diseases, dropsy, heart, stomach, kidneys, bladder, nerves, muscles, bones, paralysis, rheumatism, all bad blood and skin diseases, stricture, varicocele and all diseases of the sexual organs of man or woman quickly cured by new method. A NEW TESTIMONIAL EVERY WEEK.

Peosta, Ind.

This is to certify, that after being doctored almost into death's arms, and for seven long years I suffered this torture, then given up as hopeless by a number of physicians and so-called specialists in female complaints, Dr. Zimmerman completely cured me of a complication of ailments peculiar to my sex, and I believe his is the only treatment that will cure such serious complaints, and say that all suffering women can find relief in his skillful ministration. With best wishes for your continued success, we are, respectfully, MR. AND MRS. M. MISER.

Prince Henry gets into Chicago tonight and for the first time will realize that he is in the country that is the abode of the strenuous.

After the glamour of Prince Henry's presence has faded perhaps the people of several states will appreciate that they have also had "Fighting Bob" Evans for a time "in their midst."

The senate Saturday passed the irrigation bill and there is likelihood that that measure or one resembling it will become a law. The bill will do great things for the west and the provisions are such as to make irrigation enterprises pay for the improvements. It will add millions of acres to the agricultural area of the country.

Germany stands in ecstatic amazement at the reception given Prince Henry in the United States. We hope it is not misinterpreted. It is not hero worship, toadyism or admiration of royalty. Uncle Sam is a good fellow and in the prince and his imperial brother he finds good fellowship. The people of the United States have high admiration for the German people, from whom so many sturdy qualities of our own citizenship have come. As the representative of that people the prince is as much welcomed as for the many admirable qualities of his own person.

Major Micah Jenkins, of South Carolina is a man of sense who deserves to be well thought of. He was a "rough rider" in Colonel Roosevelt's command in Cuba and gave good account of himself as a fighter. Admiring friends have contributed money to purchase him a testimonial sword and President Roosevelt was to make the presentation on his forthcoming visit to the Charleston exposition. Then the Tillman-McLaurin affair occurred in the senate and the president felt constrained to withdraw the invitation to Senator Tillman to attend the white house dinner to Prince Henry. Forthwith "Joe" Tillman, lieutenant governor of South Carolina and a nephew of the senator, sent a scurvy letter to the president desiring him to withdraw his acceptance of an invitation to present the sword to Major Jenkins. It created a situation of some embarrassment for the president. He did not like to distinguish "Joe" Tillman by noticing his insult nor did he care under the circumstances to fulfill his delicate engagement. And here is where Major Jenkins discovers himself to the country as a gentleman of tact, dignity and self-respect. He writes Lieutenant Governor "Joe" that if it is true a coarse and boorish slight has been put upon the president in relation to presenting the sword he must decline to receive the testimonial. That puts Lieutenant Governor "Joe" in a hole that he cannot easily climb out of. Meanwhile, it is understood the president will make his purposed visit to Charleston and may present Major Jenkins with the sword.

M'QUISTON FOR COMMISSIONER.

Mr. Benjamin J. McQuiston, of Washington township, will be a candidate before the Allen county democratic convention the 15th inst. for the nomination for commissioner from the second district. Mr. McQuiston makes formal announcement today and will make a vigorous canvass for the nomination.

Mr. McQuiston has not sought the office. For several weeks it has persistently been seeking him. He becomes a candidate only in obedience to the earnest wishes of a very large number of the most substantial democrats in the county, who believe it is a duty Mr. McQuiston owes the democratic party and the people of the county to permit his name to go before the convention.

The Sentinel is impelled by most excellent and wholly unselfish considerations to heartily endorse this candidacy and commend Mr. McQuiston to the democratic voters of Allen county. His nomination will rescue the democratic ticket from the worst weakness which now threatens it. It will give the ticket a name that will add to the sum of its excellences and to its general strength. Above and beyond these considerations, however, the nomination of Mr. McQuiston will be the democratic party's pledge to the people of Allen county that it stands for fitness and decency in public office. Obvious facts are such as to give the nomination of Mr. McQuiston peculiarly this significance. There is no reason why Mr. McQuiston should not be nominated. He is a man of high character, admitted abilities and long training in public affairs. He is honest, courageous and of resolute character. He is sober, gentlemanly, dignified and of agreeable personality. He will make a splendid commissioner and may be depended upon to do nothing to bring reproach upon the community he serves or the political party he represents.

Mr. McQuiston is not a stranger to the people of Allen county. He was born fifty years ago on the farm in Washington township where he now resides. He comes of fine pioneer ancestry and he is devoted patriotically to the good name and welfare of the county that has always been his home. He served the people of his township six years as trustee and no trustee has a better record of efficiency and honesty than that left by Mr. McQuiston when he retired from office.

For several weeks Mr. McQuiston has been extensively solicited to enter the race for the commissionership, but only consented at this late day because the number of prominent and substantial democrats who desired his candidacy became so numerous as to make refusal all but impossible. Among those who have urged his candidacy are democrats who themselves are candidates and would welcome the strength that Mr. McQuiston's nomination would give the ticket.

In conclusion, The Sentinel again would commend Mr. McQuiston's candidacy to the democratic voters of Allen county and claim for him the support of the masses of the party who have no selfish interests to serve and are interested only in decency and fitness in office and the preservation of the grand old party from the dangers and disasters which the nomination of bad men will surely bring on. Let the nomination of Mr. McQuiston be accomplished in a manner so emphatic as to make the decree at once a vindication and a warning.

JAMES DAVIDSON IS KILLED

COESSE MAN MEETS AN ACCIDETAL DEATH.

Lifeless Body Found Along Pennsylvania Tracks West of the City Sunday Morning.

Lying between the double tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, little more than two miles west of Fort Wayne, at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, Ernest Heuschen, of 28 Huron street, who had started to walk to Hadley to spend the day, found the lifeless body of an unknown man. Mr. Heuschen promptly notified the railroad officials and after Coroner Barnett had visited the scene the remains were brought to the city on a hand car. They were taken to the Schone undertaking establishment, and this morning F. L. Rodabaugh, residing at 28 Grant avenue, identified the dead man as James Davidson, of Coesse.

The remains were still warm when found, and it is evident that death had occurred but a short time previously. The head was lying toward the west. Scattered along for 300 yards east of the body were the dead man's hat, mittens and other belongings. There are marks across the boots worn by the man, which indicate that perhaps in attempting to board a westbound freight train his feet had slipped through the stirrup and he had been dragged for a considerable distance, his head hanging downward and beating against the ends of the ties and the gravel at the side of the roadbed. The left side of the skull was crushed in, the face was badly disfigured, there was a gash in the left forearm and the feet had been injured. Davidson was roughly dressed and in the contents of his pockets was little which threw any light upon his identity.

Shortly after Mr. Rodabaugh had identified the body this morning two citizens of Whitley county stepped into the Morgue and corroborated the identification. It is learned that Davidson, who was about thirty years of age, was mentally deficient, though harmless, and had been a county charge in Whitley county, though spending much of his time at Coesse. Upon his person was found an unsigned due bill drawn on a Columbia City bank for $200, which had been given Richardson by some joker.

The man had relatives at Columbia City and they were promptly notified by Coroner Barnett this morning. A brother-in-law, Nelson Gardner, owner of a 'bus line there, will arrive today to claim the remains. It is not known how Richardson came to be riding upon the train or by what means he reached the locality where he met his death.

PRISONERS BREAK JAIL.

Baltimore, Md., March 3.—Six prisoners broke jail at Easton, Md., late Saturday night and in attempting to rearrest them Deputy Sheriff Thomas J. Thompson was instantly killed. Lewis Green (colored) is thought to have fired the shot which killed Thompson. Green was awaiting trial on the charge of having murdered his mistress and it is thought that he planned the escape. The other prisoners were held on minor charges. Owing to the fact that telegraphic and telephonic communication between Easton and the rest of the state has been entirely suspended for the past week, the details of the escape and subsequent fight are unobtainable at this time, such information as is at hand having been brought here by the crew of an incoming steamer.

NAMED EXECUTIVE BOARD.

To aid in the county fair project the Allen County Agricultural association at its meeting Saturday afternoon named an executive board composed of Messrs. James Gillie, David McKay, George Ashley, W. F. Devilbiss, Ochmig Bird, Alexander Johnson and George V. Kell. Mr. Bird was made treasurer of the committee. While no date was definitely fixed for the fair, the association unanimously approved Senator Kell's selection of the first week in October. The association will meet again on the first Saturday in April, and it is believed that by that date the plans for the coming fair will be well under way.

ARRANGING FOR CONVENTION.

An important meeting of the superintendents of Sunday schools was held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church and a number of committees were appointed to make arrangements for the convention of Sunday school workers to be held here March 20 and 21. Eight counties in northern Indiana will be represented and about 100 delegates will be in attendance. The sessions will be held in the First Presbyterian church.

Some one mentioned LEROUX'S BLOOD REMEDY to him. The rich man laughed scornfully. His friend persisted, and, still laughing, he tried the medicine. "If you convince me," he said, "that this medicine is the great tonic and purifier you claim, I'll go back into the harness and make it famous." He was cured. So were three of his friends. He kept his word, and is devoting his life to the remedy that cured him, and is now president of the Leroux Medicine Co. As bright eyed and energetic as a boy, at the age of 59 years, he is a living advertisement for his own medicine. This wealthy man will take time to send you a personal letter if you will only ask him, and his company physician, Dr. Whiteford, will give your case personal attention free of charge. Write today. WIFE HAS RACE WITH DEATH.

St. Joseph, Mich., March 3.—A race against death, made by a wife to save the life of her husband, came to a tragic end at Derby yesterday. Henry Ludwig, a farmer, while driving in a carriage to his home, was seized with pains about the heart, and a few moments later sank unconscious in his seat. Mrs. Ludwig, fearing that he would die before she could reach the residence of a physician, whipped the horse into a gallop. When about half a mile from town the stricken husband died. Five minutes later the horse plunged forward, just as they reached Dr. Beers' residence, and dropped to the ground dead.

GET MAD

When Friends Tell the Truth.

Many people become coffee topers before they realize it and would be angry if thus described even by a close friend.

It will pay anyone to examine carefully into whether or not coffee has gained the mastery over them. A coffee toper may suspect that his or her ails come from coffee drinking, but they will invariably charge the disease to some other cause, for right down in the heart they realize that it would be practically impossible to give up coffee, so they hope against hope that it does not hurt them, but it goes on with its work just the same and the result is complete collapse and nervous prostration, lasting sometimes for years, unless the poison that causes the disease is discontinued.

There are hundreds of thousands of illustrations of the truth of this statement.

Any person addicted to coffee can make the change from common coffee to Postum Food Coffee without trouble provided the Postum is properly prepared so as to bring out the color, flavor and food value. It has a rich black brown color and changes to the golden brown when good cream is added.

The change will work wonders in anyone whose nervous system or stomach has been unbalanced or disturbed by coffee.

Hair Splits

Don't singe the hair because it splits at the ends. When the hair splits it simply shows it is weak. Feed your hair with Ayer's Hair Vigor, the genuine hair-food. It cures dandruff, stops falling of the hair, and always restores color to gray hair.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for 30 years. It is elegant for a hair dressing and for keeping the hair from splitting at the ends."

TWO BOYS PREVENT A WRECK.

Kokomo, Ind., March 3.—A disastrous wreck on the Clover Leaf road three miles west of here was narrowly averted by two boys yesterday. While crossing a bridge they discovered a broken and misplaced rail. The fast passenger train was then due. The boys, Dannie Arbuckle and Cliff Chapman, each aged 9 years, ran in opposite directions to give warning. One was just in time to stop the train, waving his red sock-cap as a danger signal. The other had reached the depot just in time to stop an outgoing freight. The boys undoubtedly prevented a disastrous wreck by their prompt action and bravery.

MAY BUILD AN ADDITION.

The Hope hospital executive committe is considering the advisability of enlarging the institution and an architect will be instructed to prepare drawings for an addition to contain about twenty rooms. The hospital is overcrowded and quite a number of applications for admission are now on file. There are no funds to erect an addition, but it is thought that no trouble will be experienced in raising the required amount by subscription.

William Dale, of Goshen, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

FARM LANDS.

The population of the United States, now 76,000,000, will be in only eighteen more years, 120,000,000 and the future of farm lands is brilliant. It will not be many years until highly productive farms are on a 5 per cent. basis, as in England, and price $200 per acre. Emigration no longer goes west from Illinois, (lack of rain in Kansas and Nebraska) the tide has turned and is coming east into Indiana. Many have sold their Illinois farms at $125 per acre to buy in Indiana at $60 and $70 per acre.

The famous Williams farm, on Eel river, two miles west of Laketon, Wabash county, Ind., (two railroads) 627 acres, soon to be marked up to $50 per acre, and cheap at that, is now offered at $40 per acre; one-third down, balance on time to suit at 6 per cent. In this last bad corn year the upland on this farm produced a fair crop and the rich bottom soil sixty bushels per acre. The quarter sections of this land are overrunning fractionals and may survey out thirty acres more than 627, but will be sold for 627 acres. Apply to

EMPLOYERS REPLY

TO QUESTION PROPOUNDED BY REV. E. W. ALLEN.

HOW IMPORTANT IS RELIGION

CONSIDERED AS A QUALIFICATION IN AN EMPLOYE?

MANY EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS

WORKINGMEN WILL NOW BE ASKED FOR OPINIONS.

Early last week Rev. E. W. Allen, pastor of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ, addressed to a number of the larger employers of labor in Fort Wayne this question:

"In the selection of employes and officials, in your judgment how much, if any, importance should be attached to the fact that the applicant is religiously inclined or a prominent, active Christian worker?"

Replies were received from nearly every person addressed, and the list included bankers, railroad men, manufacturers and business men generally. These letters were heard with much interest at a meeting for men held at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ Sunday afternoon, the names of the writers being, of course, withheld. The responses are here given:

IT IS IMPORTANT.

It is impossible to attach too much importance, in selecting an employe, to his moral attributes, as evidenced by his religious life. The great corporations, such as railroad companies, manufacturing associations, and the larger commercial enterprises are every year paying more attention to the moral status of their employes. It is not a great while ago that intemperance in an applicant for a place in the drain service of a railroad was not a barrier to his appointment. Today a man needs to have a clean record as to drink to stand a show. It is the same in all the big enterprises, and the discrimination in favor of God-fearing men is constantly in evidence. There are more Christian railroad men employed on railroads and in great manufacturing and commercial houses now than at any time in the history of this country. That a man is religiously inclined, or a prominent active Christian worker, is a passport to places of trust and emolument in the service of even men who are not themselves professing Christians. There can be no doubt upon this point. Statistics prove it, and the words of employers in every avenue of business proclaim it.

NOT A CONSIDERATION.

Your favor of the 26th inst. has been referred to me by Mr. Wood for answer. We have never made it a practice to take into consideration the religious qualifications of any of our employes, but hire them simply on their records as workmen and experts. After working hours we exercise no particular control over their actions as long as they conduct our business to our satisfaction; we do not inquire very closely into their actions or methods outside of our business.

GIVES ANOTHER'S VIEWS.

In answer to your question as to whether or not in the selection of employes and officials any importance should be attached to the fact that the applicant is religiously inclined or a prominent, active Christian worker, I would say that every employer desires to know two facts when treating with an applicant; first, capacity; second, integrity. By integrity I mean one who will not only be honest in financial matters, but one who will honestly and faithfully give his best thought and energies to the performance of his duties, and also give all the time and energy to accomplish the same

When I opened your letter a gentleman who probably has as much to do with the employment of men of all grades as I, was sitting by my side and I read him your letter. He remarked that after years of experience he had come to the conclusion that no man was as bad as he could be; that the degree of capacity and integrity so varied in men that the question you raise was difficult to answer with exactness; that many men were connected with the business in which he was an officer, whose capacity, or "gray matter," as he says, was so great that lapses both as to temperance and other moral attributes were overlooked because when the men did work their work was of such a superior quality that they were retained when men of mediocre capacity would be released. But he says that sooner or later, accordingly as men depart from the paths of rectitude and right, they must lose their positions no matter what their capacity.

He said he know to a fact that if two men should go to those who employed men to work for any of the great corporations that come into our city, one bearing a letter of recommendation from a minister of undoubted standing in our community, and one who was not carried away by any radicalism or fad, and the other did not possess any such recommendation, that if they were in all other respects equal the one who carried such recommendation would be given precedence over the other.

My experience is but limited compared with this gentleman's, but my judgment so nearly corresponds with this statement that I beg to give his answer to the question rather than my own.

DOES NOT INQUIRE.

In the struggle for existence life is a battle. There is an inherent right in every human creature to share in this contest. Leadership falls which ignores this right.

The joy of individual possession and, if you please, individual triumph has built up a structure of vast affairs that we call business. It is of the world, worldly. In the selection of employes and officials we look for the qualifications and endowments fitting for this battle. The duty of the employer and the allegiance of the employe are based on these attributes, which imply intelligence, capacity, honesty and morality.

Religion is a spiritual quality; it is between the conscience of the individual and his Creator. It rewards or punishes him according as he believes and acts, and therefore concerns himself alone. In my judgment the selection of employes and officials may be made without reference to it.

SHOULD HAVE PREFERENCE.

In answer to your question will say that a Christian man should have the preference at all times.

PROFESSION NO ASSET.

Replying to your favor of this date, I beg to say that of late years I have made it a point not to take part in any discussion bearing upon religion. I have simply held my peace. However, lest I appear ungracious, I may briefly answer your inquiry by saying that while I attach much importance to the habits and manner of life, I would not regard the "religiously inclined" person or the "prominent, active Christian worker" with any more favor than another person. In fact, my experience is that the active Christian worker exaggerates in his own mind his own superiority and fails to realize how utterly worthless as a character asset a man's belief or profession is.

I trust that I make myself understood without appearing to undervalue those characteristics which marked the founder of the Christian religion.

ARE MORE RELIABLE.

In writer's experience of something over twenty years in the employment of men, finds those who are professed Christians are very much more reliable than those who are simply religiously inclined. The latter class, while professedly moral, reserve for themselves usually the right to do a great many things that are not strictly right, while those who are honestly religious and who are Christian workers have a more honest purpose in life and their tastes and desires are such as to keep them always in touch with right business purposes in life and also have the further safeguard thrown around them by reason of rightful associations, which make for the betterment of their lives and more studious plans during business hours. It does not follow that there are not a great many splendid young men who are not professed Christians who have made some success in life, but for business purposes it is decidedly safer to tie to professed Christians than those who are simply morally good.

IT IS A RECOMMENDATION.

In the selection of employes I never knowingly hire a man who chews tobacco. The habit renders him so offensive to cleanly men and women that we will not give such an one a place in our establishment.

I never knowingly hire a man who drinks, gambles, keeps bad company, is profane, or runs into debt to any considerable extent for articles of apparel. Ordinarily a man should earn his money before he spends it.

It is a very decided recommendation in our eyes if a young man is attending night school or business college, keeps out of debt, has learned to save something, however little, from his income, is reading a good class of books from the public library and is either a member or a regular attendant at Sabbath school or church.

RELIGION OF VALUE.

Your favor of even date received. In reply will say a person that is religiously inclined and has other qualifications, in my judgment, will receive more consideration than one who has good qualities but has no religion.

ANCESTRY AND HABIT.

Your esteemed favor of the 26th inst. at hand and noted. In the employment of labor, male or female, I am guided very much in my judgment by the qualifications of the father and mother and invariably consider this the most important feature. I believe that good parents are a first requisite.

The next thing I consider is the habits of the applicant.

These qualifications are based upon religious training to a great extent and I consider them of the utmost importance and the parental influence has a great bearing upon the character of the posterity. All things being equal I should say that people of religious training would be better than those who have none, and I certainly would incline to that side of the proposition if that were to be made a test. In my judgment a great prejudice has grown up in the minds of the commercial public against employing over zealous Christians in any capacity. This comes largely from the fact that in many instances these people are hypocritical and not what may be called true Christians. The man who parades his religion and carries it around on his cuffs is very often not a man to inspire the confidence of his fellow men nor of the business public and business men are inclined to be rather shy of these people

The true Christian, in my humble opinion, is one who lets his example tell the story.

PREFERS CHRISTIANS.

Your question at hand. I do not make church membership a condition of employment here, but I do prefer distinctly Christian people, other things being equal.

I do not feel that sect has much difference—I have several excellent employes who are Roman Catholics and I think that denomination averages up as well as any. In the institution as in all institutions there are a small number of simple excellent people. Every one such here is an earnest Christian. There is however, a condition of mind which Burns calls "grace-proud" which singularly unfits a man or woman but especially a man for such service as ours. To be lowly minded, to be willing to minister—not to be ministered unto, to have charity, which is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, doth not behave itself unseemly, is essential to great success in the care of the Father's little ones, who are so easily made to offend as these in our care. There are people who do not pray in public, who would shrink from rising in an experience meeting to testify, who are modest, quiet souls, yet who have the root of the matter in them almost unconsciously. There are those who regard themselves as the elect, and thank God they are not as other men whose self-consciousness and pride in their condition of salvation makes them almost useless in this world.

THE OTHER SIDE.

This week Rev. Allen is addressing a large number of workingmen, asking their opinion as to the importance of having a Christian as an employer. The replies will be read next Sunday.

LOCKED THE DOCTOR OUT.

(Michigan City Dispatch.)

Yesterday afternoon the gate at the penitentiary was locked upon Dr. Horne, the prison physician, by the order of Warden Reid, and Dr. Martin is temporarily looking after the welfare of the inmates of the institution. It is said at the penitentiary that the work of Dr. Horne has not been satisfactory and the differences resulting from this fact led to his being finally locked out of the place. Dr. Horne has been here for about six months, coming here from Bluffton. He succeeded Dr. Spinning, who has since his retirement from the place established himself in successful practice in the city. It is expected that the board of control, which will meet at the penitentiary on Monday, will sanction the action of the warden and will authorize him to engage a new man for the place, subject to their approval.

WILL EXCHANGE RACES.

(Decatur Journal.)

The Decatur Driving club has made arrangements with the Fort Wayne Driving club to exchange races. On certain days the Decatur Driving club will race at Fort Wayne and at other times the Fort Wayne club will race here. In this manner races can be held at this place every two weeks. The race committee has been instructed to try and make similar arrangements with Bluffton.

KILL WHALES AT EASTPORT.

Eastport, Maine, March 3.—Two finback whales that caused much excitement in the cove here for several days were killed last night. They are about forty-five feet in length, the largest having a fin eight feet long. The whales were in the cove for thirty-eight hours. Countless bullets had been fired into their sides by the Indians of the Passamaquoddy tribe and many of the best rifle shots from this city had tried to kill them. When finally cornered in the smallest part of the cove it was necessary for the Indians to use their harpoons before the big fish were finally killed, and the water was red with their blood for a considerable distance. Dynamite was tried Friday afternoon with some success as it caused the fish to make into shallow water. It was an exciting hunt up to the last. With harpoons in their backs the whales circled about the narrow cove and kept the Indians in their canoes busy. Numerous boatmen followed up the wounded whales and fired volley after volley from large caliber rifles into them until they were dead.

WRECKED BY EXPLOSION.

New York, March 3.—An explosion today wrecked the five-story building at Nos. 210-212 Canal street occupied by the Aste-Press Printing company. The building was filled with employes, some of whom were hurt by jumping. Half the Canal street front of the structure was blown into the street and the interior was almost instantly a roaring mass of flame. The printing house backed up against a row of seven-story flathouses occupied by Italians. The rear wall of the burning building was blown against the tenements, creating panic among the occupants. Many jumped from windows. Consuela Durranto leaped from a window and alighted on the stone flagging of a courtyard. She was taken to a hospital, where she died.

O. H. P. BELMONT BETTER.

Washington, March 3.—Representative O. H. P. Belmont, of New York city, who is ill here with pneumonia, is slightly better. There are no alarming developments in his condition.

"I say those little prayers my mother taught me every morning—just before I go to bed," is the reply which Stuart Robson, as "Bertie the Lamb," in "The Henrietta," gives when his sweetheart asks him if the fellows at the club are as wicked as they have been pictured. The late Henry Ward Beecher once said that a sermon was contained in that one speech. Mr. Robson can be seen here Tuesday, March 11.

CHRISTIAN A. KRAMER DEAD

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN AND FORMER COUNCILMAN.

Mrs. Jacob Coulter, of Arcola, is No More—Other Deaths and Funerals of the Day.

Christian A. Kramer, a life-long citizen of Fort Wayne, former member of the council from the First ward and widely and favorably known, died at his home, 1106 East Wayne street, Sunday afternoon, shortly after 3 o'clock.

Though in feeble health for some time, Mr. Kramer's death was unexpected. He had been a sufferer from stomach and liver trouble, but remained at work until shortly before the holidays. Since that time he had remained at home, and arose as usual Sunday morning, but an hour later was taken suddenly ill. Despite the ministrations of physicians and friends, he declined steadily until the end came. Mr. Kramer was 54 years of age.

He was a native of Fort Wayne, born January 23, 1848, and his entire life was spent in this city. For five years he was in the employ of Christian Orff, and then entered the service of Root & Co., where he remained for seventeen years. Then he retired to enter business for himself, on Lafayette street, but two years later returned to the Root dry goods house, remaining about four years. He was last employed as storekeeper for Charles Falk & Co.

Mr. Kramer was united in marriage December 10, 1874, to Miss Caroline Deuter, who survives, together with three children—Fred, Albert and Miss Clara Kramer, all at home. Other relatives include his aged mother, four brothers and three sisters—F. C. Kramer, of Chicago; August Kramer, of Brooklyn; Adolph Kramer, of Chicago; William F. Kramer, of this city; Mrs. H. Kruse, of this city; Mrs. H. Guenther, of this city, and Mrs. Rev. Bartel, of Mobile, Ala. Mr. Kramer was a most estimable citizen and had a very wide circle of friends.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from St. Paul's Lutheran church.

COULTER.

Mrs. Jacob Coulter died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at her home in Arcola, after an extended illness. Mrs. Coulter was about 47 years of age and her death was due to a complication of diseases.

She was a most estimable woman, possessing in a marked degree the admirable graces of lofty womanhood, was widely known and had many friends. The family is one of the most prominent in that section of the county. The bereaved husband is widely known as a lumberman and the family have many friends in Fort Wayne. Surviving are the husband and six children—John, Will and the Misses Blanche, Maude, Helen and Ethel Coulter, all at home. There are also two brothers and three sisters—Alfred Crawford, of this city; Nelson Crawford, residing in Chicago; Mrs. Stratton, whose home is in Missouri; Mrs. Sauder, of North Dakota, and another sister residing in Missouri.

Mrs. Coulter was a devoted member of the M. E. church and the funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Foster officiating.

BIEBER.

Mrs. Ella M. Bieber, wife of William H. Bieber, residing at 15 Hale avenue, died at 7 o'clock this morning from peritonitis, at the age of 28 years, 7 months and 9 days. Mrs. Bieber was the daughter of James Fulmer, of Milan township, and was born at Huntington. Surviving are the husband, but no children. There are several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning from the residence of James Fulmer, the father, and later from Union chapel. The interment will occur at Gar Creek.

SNYDER.

Edwin Snyder, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snyder, of 157 Taylor street, died Sunday afternoon from exhaustion at the age of fifteen days.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MATTHIAS.

Asa Matthias, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Matthias, residing at 1623 Wells street, died at 8 o'clock this morning from scarlet fever at the age of four years.

The funeral services were held privately this afternoon.

PARISOE.

Miss Mary P. Parisoe died at noon today after an extended illness at her home, 290 East Jefferson street, where she has long resided with her sister. Miss Parisoe's age was 49 years, 9 months and 2 days. She was a daughter of the late Louise Parisoe, and the family is an old and well known one. A brother of the deceased, Louis Parisoe, died some months ago.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning from the Cathedral.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Johnson.—The remains of Miss Mary A. Johnson were removed to the home of an aunt, Mrs. Miller, at 133 Barr street, and the funeral services will be held from the Cathedral Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

BURNS—BAKER.

The marriage of Miss Lizzie Baker, of 83 New Haven avenue, to James Burns, a boilermaker employed in the Wabash shops, took place at the home of Jacob Ahner, pastor of the German Baptist church, at his home on Walton avenue on Saturday evening. The wedding celebration occurred Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, the guests being relatives and intimate friends of the couple. A wedding dinner was served, after which the guests enjoyed a musicale.

THINKS ROBBERY WAS INTENDED.

On Saturday Edward Nietert, a jeweler doing business at the corner of Harmer and Washington streets, received a letter requesting him to meet a person unknown to him at some down-town point. He did not know the person whose name was attached to the letter and paid no attention to it. On Saturday night other persons outside his store observed two strangers loitering about the front of the store and one was overheard to remark to the other: "I guess it's off; he's still there—he don't look as though he intended to go." The men soon after went away. Nothing further was thought of the matter until today after it became known that an attempt had been made to rob the soap works on the same night. The men who overheard the conversation then reported what they had heard to Mr. Nietert, who is of the opinion that the latter was a decoy to get him away from his place of business so that a robbery might be perpetrated upon his establishment. Late this afternoon Mr. Nietert said he would turn the entire matter over to the police department. As it is, however, no attempt upon his store was made to his knowledge.

The annual meeting of the Home City Cottagers' association will be held next Monday evening in the offices of Charles W. Orr, 132 East Berry street. New officers will be elected at this meeting.

SILENT DESPITE JAIL BARS.

Burlington, Vt., March 3.—William Cilley has been in jail seven months because he will not reveal the name of the woman who furnished him liquor, and he swears he will stay there for life before he does so. One of the provisions of Vermont's prohibitory law is that a person arrested for intoxication must disclose under oath the name of the person of whom he procured his liquor. If the disclosure is satisfactory to the court the man is fined. If he cannot pay he is sent to the house of correction. Then the person whose name he disclosed is brought into court and fined. If a man arrested for intoxication refuses to disclose he is returned to jail, there to linger until he tells the truth. Cilley was arrested while intoxicated July 4 last. He said to a visitor yesterday that the liquor was given him by a woman friend and that such a friend should never be punished through a disclosure of his. Chilley is 42 years old and has been employed by various lumber firms and by Dr. W. Seward Webb, at Shelburne farms. Since he has been in jail his clothes have become worn almost to rags. The expense of keeping Cilley in jail falls upon the state. The rate is 50 cents a day.

HOPES TO REDEEM CHINA.

Tacoma, Wash., March 3.—Viceroy Yuan, of Che-Lee, has announced to representative Tokio papers that he intends starting a newspaper at Tien-Tsin as soon as the civil governments of that city and Manchuria are restored to China. His plans were formed while governor of Shan-Tung. He procured the necessary type and machinery, which are now being transferred to Tien-Tsin. He says he believes China's salvation lies in the introduction of western civilization and that newspapers comprise the best weapon for arousing his fellow countrymen to the sense of the necessity for a change. His journal will disseminate enlightened and progressive views. Viceroy Yuan also is preparing to dispatch a party of several hundred students to Japan.

OHIO MILLIONAIRE'S SUICIDE.

Warren, Ohio, March 3.—Henry Bishop Perkins, multi-millionaire and one of the leading citizens of Ohio, hanged himself yesterday while mentally incapacitated from ill health and the death of a son. Bishop Perkins, a Yale graduate, who committed suicide a year ago. Mr. Perkins was a liberal giver to charity and his benevolences extended all over the state. He was president of the First National bank of Warren and also prominent in railroad affairs. He is survived by his widow, a son Jacob and two daughters, Olive, wife of Judge Samuel W. Smith, of Cincinnati, and Miss Mary, who lives at home.

SITE FOR BUILDINGS FOUND.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 3.—A site has been selected for Cleveland's new public buildings, the aggregate cost of which is estimated at $16,000,000. The site includes all the land from the west side of Ontario street to the east side of Bond street, extending from Superior street to Lake. At the head will stand the new federal building, at the other end will be the new court house, while along the sides will be grouped the other buildings. What is now Wood street will be transformed into a boulevard 360 feet wide. For this purpose the legislature will be asked to appropriate $1,500,000.

THE POPE'S JUBILEE.

New York, March 3.—The jubilee of Pope Leo XIII which began yesterday will be commemorated in all Catholic churches. Masses in each church will be said today. After the last mass a te deum will be sung in thanksgiving for the prolonged conservation of the pope's life and health. In the evening a meeting will be held under the presidency of Archbishop Corrigan, and will be addressed by Bourke Cockran. Plans for the celebration of the pope's jubilee in this country had been generally remanded, but they will now speedily be got under way in conformity with suggestions in a letter received by Cardinal Gibbons from the pope's vicar general.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

Business about the court house today was considerably upon the absent-treatment theory. The only court with anything like a rush of business was that of the commissioners. There were thirty-three applications for liquor licenses, and there being no remonstrances filed, it is not unlikely that all the applicants will have been satisfied by tonight and the school fund will be augmented just $3,300.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the commissioners met the representatives of the Commercial club in the assembly room to further discuss the court house dedication proposition. At the hour of going to press The Sentinel is not advised of what measures or plans will be presented. It is quite likely, however, that the most important matter to be discussed will be that of fixing dates.

The commissioners at the session this morning approved the requisition of Superintendent Turflinger, of the poor farm, for supplies for the next quarter.

In the circuit court the only case presented was that of Henry vs. Aurentz on contract; demand, $125. The evidence is being heard by a jury.

The superior court jury on Saturday evening returned a verdict setting aside the will of the late Theobald Leininger after a trial continuing nearly all of last week. The principal plaintiff was the widow, who elected to take her share under the statutes instead of under the will.

The will of John Donnelly was recorded on Saturday.

Judge Aiken has divorced William Bender from Leah Bender. The decree was made Saturday afternoon.

TOWN OFFERED AT AUCTION.

Some thirty years ago a wealthy Russian nobleman gave up a large tract of his valuable estate and founded thereon a modest town which he christened Walsawn. During the remainder of his life he showed the greatest interest in the scheme, and at his death he left the whole place to the inhabitants, who were to run the town on modern socialistic lines. Suddenly finding themselves their own landlords, taxmasters and local authorities, the people, of whom there were about 400, decided to make the place a model town in every sense of the word.

They became so very progressive that they instituted improvement upon improvement, without the least thought as to whether they could pay the necessary bills, and when these had to be met they awoke to the necessity of levying extra rates. This caused an exodus of more than a hundred of the inhabitants, which left the others in a worse position than ever. To meet the town's bills by taxation was no longer possible, so the whole place as it stood was mortgaged to its most pressing creditors.

In time matters became so bad that Walsawn could not even pay the interest on the mortgage, and the mortgagees, therefore, foreclosed. The town was divided up into lots, and sold by auction, realizing just about sufficient money to repay the mortgages. But it was a bad speculation for the purchasers, for when the inhabitants found that they were expected to pay rents as well as taxes, they deserted the place at once, leaving the town to look after itself, and fall into ruin.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. mySeod-w

WATER SUBSIDING

FLOODS IN MOST PLACES HAVE ABATED.

PITTSBURG OUT OF DANGER

PATERSON IS SUFFERING A HEAVY LOSS.

SOUTHERN RIVERS FALLING

WORST NOW APPEARS TO BE WHOLLY PAST.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 3.—The great flood is gone, and the turbulent waters of the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers are again within their natural channels. At noon the Allegheny marks registered 24 feet, a fall of 8 feet, 4 inches from the highest point. All danger is over and the districts affected by the high water are regaining their normal conditions. All the great mills of the Carnegie company, Crucible Steel company, American Steel Hoop company, American Tin Plate company, Pressed Steel Car company and Jones & Laughlin's have resumed operations or will be running as usual again within the next twenty-four hours.

FLOODS IN VERMONT.

Montpelier, Vt., March 3.—A tremendous freshet in the Winooski river has caused thousands of dollars of damage to city, railroad and private property in this city and vicinity. Choked by an ice jam, the river has risen steadily for several days, and during last night it reached flood height, overflowing its banks, washed out highways and railroads and swept away two bridges, one of them being a steel structure, which it is estimated will cost the city of Montpelier $20,000 to replace. Dynamite has been tried on the ice with little effect. It is hoped, however, that under fair weather conditions the water will gradually subside.

One of the bridges carried away was that on the Barre branch of the Central Vermont railroad. All traffic will be cut off at that point for a week or more.

The highways between here and Barre are under water in many places and it is impossible for electric cars to be operated. Reports from the country districts show that the flood is the greatest known for many years.

PATERSON UNDER WATER.

New York, March 3.—The great flood that has inundated a large part of the mill section of Paterson, N. J., subsided somewhat during the night and it is believed the worst is over. The damage was very great. It is estimated that the loss wrought by the flood is as large as that by the fire, while it is said there is little or no insurance to cover it. Many more families have been rendered homeless by the flood than were made so by the fire and the relief committee, whose labors were becoming lighter daily, is now hard at work seeking to assist those who have lost everything by the high water.

Between 11 o'clock last night and 4 o'clock this morning the water in the streets of Paterson fell five and a quarter inches and there has been a still further decline since that hour. Unless there should be another heavy downpour of rain it is thought that no further damage will be done. Along the water front on both sides of the river almost everything is wrecked, foundations and road beds having been eaten away and about everything in sight more or less damaged.

SOUTHERN RIVERS SUBSIDE.

Washington, March 3.—Reports from sections of the south where rivers have been far over their banks causing tremendous floods and immense damage, are that the worst in most instances is passed and the rivers are subsiding. Railways are beginning to resume operations, though trains are running on very imperfect schedules. Three persons were drowned in the flood of the Savannah river at Augusta, Ga.

THREE WERE DROWNED.

Pittston, Pa., March 3.—Three drowning accidents occurred near here last night. A breaker boy, whose home is at Minooka, fell into the Lackawanna river and was swept away. A small boat containing two men, names unknown, was capsized at Kingston flats and both were drowned.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

Messrs. Eggemann, Dochrmann and Zollinger, of the board of works, and City Engineer Randall, accompanied by representatives of the Federal Asphalt company, returned early this morning from a tour of inspection, during which they inspected Kentucky rock asphalt streets. The trip embraced a visit to Columbus, Ohio; Louisville, Ky., and Indianapolis, and from a general gleaning of opinion the impression made upon the board was rather favorable. All the gentlemen seemed well pleased with their trip, but were not at present in a position to express themselves fully on the subject. The board of works is in session this afternoon considering routine matters. No business of importance is before the body.

The street and park employes will be paid tomorrow. The pay roll will amount to about $600, of which nearly all will go to the street department. The street cleaners were pretty busy last week and that fact has caused the pay roll to pop up from the $150 mark to the figure named above.

The finance committee will meet this evening, pursuant to notices sent out by Clerk Schmidt.

PRO-BOER POSTCARDS.

Some time ago a movement was on foot by the pro-Boer organ, the Petit Bleu, in the shape of a postcard petition to Queen Alexandra for the abolition of the concentration camps. A postcard was specially designed for the purpose in the form of a supplication, space being left on the card for the addition of any remarks that the sender might think fit to make. Several thousands of these cards were dispatched to Her Majesty, the blank being generally made use of for the inscription of impertinences. The whole consignment of postcards has been detained by the postal authorities in London in virtue of a by-law by which offensive matter may not be delivered to a reigning sovereign.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, March 3.—Bearish conditions prevailed at the opening of the wheat market. Cables were lower, weather was favorable in the winter wheat country and the monthly government report indicated generally favorable conditions in the crops. May opened ½@¾c to 1@1¼c lower at 70¾c to 71¼c. Statistics were bearish in that the amount of breadstuffs on passage had increased 1,306,000 bushels and the week's world's shipments were 7,142,000 bushels compared to 6,881,000 last week and 7,273,000 bushels last year. The market, however, was well supported both by the local crowd and by commission houses. May reaction to 70¾@70¾c, but later sold around 70¾c. Local receipts were 26 cars, 2 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 476 cars, making a total for the three points of 502 cars against 947 last week (three days) and 701 a year ago.

Wheat continued to fluctuate narrowly with bearish tendencies and near the end of the session sold at 70c, closing weak, 1c lower, at 70@70½c.

There was a disposition on the part of speculators to sell corn at the opening on the influence of seasonable weather. Cables were also lower, but were offset to some extent by the decreased receipts. Commission houses were on both sides of the market. Statistics were somewhat bearish. May opened 1c lower to ½c higher at 61¾c to 61⅞c and on fair early buying worked up against bearish influences to 61¾@62c. Later May sold at 61⅞c. Late country reports had it that movement need not be retarded on account of the roads, which are in fair condition. Receipts were 301 cars.

The early strength in corn carried May to 51⅝c, but on the wheat weakness selling set in and May declined to 61c, closing easy ½@¾c down at 61¼@61½c.

Oats were nervous at the opening. There was some May for sale, which caused a slight decline. May opened ½@¾c higher to ¼@½c lower at 45½c to 44¾c. There was a small demand, but as it was not urgent prices lost. Later there was a little inquiry and May sold to 44¾c. Little of importance was doing early. Receipts were 89 cars.

Provisions had a fair support early and on higher hog prices opened firm and higher. May started 3½c higher at $15.47½, sold to $15.50, but on small selling eased to $15.45@15.47½; May lard opened 2½@2¾c to 5c higher at $9.40@9.42½ to $9.42½, sold to $9.47½ and later eased to the lower opening figure. May ribs started 2½@2¾c to 5@7½c up at $8.40 to $8.42@8.42½.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 3.—The opening dealings in stocks were on an unimportant scale and price changes were small and mixed. There was no conspicuous feature in the dealings. Different stocks of the same company in some cases moved in contrary directions.

Large purchases of Tennessee Coal advanced it 2¾ to 70¾ and stiffened the market. There was a better inquiry for the leading stocks than for some time, and they sold well above Saturday's close. Sugar, Brooklyn Transit and Rock Island gained a point. In the inactive list improvements of a point or more were made by many stocks, including Northwestern, Peoria and Eastern, Consolidated Gas, Colorado Fuel, American Ice, Glucose preferred Trust Receipts and Sloss-Sheffield Steel. Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis declined 2.

Traders took profits in the prominent stocks and prices gave way slightly. The losses were recovered later when Rock Island and Northwestern were pushed up 2¾, St. Paul and Baltimore and Ohio then rose about a point. Colorado and Southern and second preferred, Continental Tobacco preferred, Denver and Rio Grande, Lake Erie and Western, St. Joseph and Grand Island, Westinghouse Electric, American Cotton Twine, Detroit Southern preferred and the American Cotton Oil stocks advanced from 1 to 2 points and Lackawanna 3½. Poison Oak Poison Ivy are among the best known of the many dangerous wild plants and shrubs. To touch or handle them quickly produces swelling and inflammation with intense itching and burning of the skin. The eruption soon disappears, the sufferer hopes forever; but almost as soon as the little blisters and pustules appeared the poison had reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will loiter in the system for years, and every atom of it must be forced out of the blood before you can expect a perfect, permanent cure.

SSS Nature's Antidote FOR Nature's Poisons, is the only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now is the time to get the poison out of your system, as delay makes your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with salves, washes and soaps—they never cure.

Mr. S. M. Marshall, bookkeeper of the Atlanta (Ga.) Gas Light Co., was poisoned with Poison Oak. He took Sulphur, Arsenic and various other drugs, and applied externally numerous lotions and salves with no benefit. At times the swelling and inflammation was so severe he was almost blind. For eight years the poison would break out every season. His condition was much improved after taking one bottle of S. S. S., and a few bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and all evidences of the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case fully to our physicians, and they will cheerfully give such information and advice as you require, without charge, and we will send at the same time an interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases,

WILL MAKE AFFIDAVIT

New Lease of Life for an Iowa Postmaster.

Postmaster R. H. Randall of Dunlap, Ia., says: "I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and resulting evils for years. Being unable to obtain permanent relief, I resolved to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Before I had taken one bottle I knew I had found what I had long looked for. After a few bottles I was cured of a soreness in my left side that I had not been free from for over ten years. I am better today than for years. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure has given me a new lease of life.

"If any suffering person will use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I believe, if it is a diseased stomach from which they suffer, that they will receive permanent relief. Anyone wishing can have a sworn statement as to the genuineness and truthfulness of this statement."

This testimonial is the voluntary statement of a man who has suffered, found relief and wants others to receive the same benefits. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure any case of stomach trouble. It rests the stomach by digesting what you eat. The rest alone would restore health. But Kodol Dyspepsia Cure also contains tonics which build up the organ and hasten the good results. You don't have to diet. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat. Helps children, too.

CAPTAIN HARROD

THE LIEUTENANT RECEIVES A PROMOTION.

WILL REMOVE TO BUFFALO

AND TAKE CHARGE OF PENNSYLVANIA POLICE.

BUSY AT THE FREIGHT HOUSE

HANDLED 3,420,600 POUNDS OF FREIGHT IN TWO DAYS.

Saturday afternoon Lieut. H. Seymour Harrod, of the Pennsylvania police force, western division, received notice of his promotion to a captaincy and he immediately tendered his resignation to Supt. J. B. McKim, the same to become effective next Monday, the 10th instant. Mr. Harrod will be stationed at Buffalo, N. Y., and his territory will include five divisions of the Pennsylvania lines, with a mileage of 800. Lieutenant Harrod is one of the most popular men in the service and he is also said to be one of the best. He became a detective in the employ of the Pennsylvania company May 2, 1898, and was promoted to the office of lieutenant July 1, 1899. Prior to that service he was a deputy sheriff during the administration of Ed Clausmeier and while in the performance of the duties of that office he was shot at the east yards by a desperado named Stone. The particulars of the affair are still fresh in the memories of the readers and it is not necessary for The Sentinel to recite them at this time. In addition to being a most excellent officer, Mr. Harrod possesses attributes which make him a favorite with his acquaintances everywhere and the news of his apointment to a captaincy will be pleasing to all. Mr. Harrod leaves next Monday for Buffalo. It is not known who will succeed Lieutenant Harrod, but the selection will be announced some time the present week.

ROAD BUILDING DELAYED.

The Everett-Moore failure has had its effect in financial circles to the extent that it will be more difficult hereafter to raise money for building interurban railways. W. H. Schott, who is president of a company that contemplates building a line from Muncie to this city, is in Indianapolis and the Journal of that city quotes him as saying that "the company was preparing to finance the road when the Everett-Moore entanglement came and this naturally shattered the confidence of financiers. On account of this the company will be delayed from ninety days to four months in its work. I think other companies having similar plans will be similarly delayed."

LIMA IN DISTRESS.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton company has declared a "quarantine" against water for steam purposes at Lima, Ohio. Supt. S. B. Lloeter has instructed his engineman to take water at that place only when there is an absolute necessity for it. The Lima water is the worst kind for steam purposes, causing foam and a rapid deposit of lime and sand in the boilers and causing them to leak at almost every joint in a very short time. The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton also threatens to remove a portion of its shops from Lima if the water problem is not soon settled.

CREWS FOR NEW ENGINES.

All of the Nickel Plate's new freight engines, ten in number, are now in service on the fourth district—Fort Wayne to Stony Island. While still a "little stiff in joints," as one of the enginemen expressed it, these engines are working first-rate for new machines and promise to give good satisfaction. Contrary to expectation, the engineers and firemen who have tried them declare they "are all right," and they find the work on them no more arduous than that upon the old style freight engines. The personnel of the crews of these new engines is as follows: Engine 119, Engineer M. F. McCarthy and Fireman V. P. Kohlman; No. 120, Engineer T. E. Short and Fireman L. D. Stouder; No. 121, Engineer Frank Telley and Fireman J. G. Byer; No. 122, Engineer S. P. Hooper and Fireman F. Fox; No. 123, Engineer George Dunann and Fireman John Karcher; No. 124, Engineer Ed Wolf and Fireman John Hollenkamp; No. 125, Engineer John Cook and Fireman T. Dalton; No. 126, Engineer George Quidore and Fireman John Brenningkamp; No. 127, Engineer M. Duggan and Fireman J. F. Eberl; No. 128, Engineer Al Baer and Fireman T. V. Wilson. The coming of these engines has put the western division of the Nickel Plate in good shape so far as power is concerned. The new engines will run only between this city and Chicago and the engines they release will be turned over to the third district—Fort Wayne to Bellevue. So far the following have thus been transferred: Nos. 89, 95, 101, 104 and 105.

REORGANIZED FOR WORK.

Not satisfied with the progress made by the old organization of the Railway and Shopmen's Protective association in the fight against the practice of garnisheeing, a number of the members met Saturday evening and reorganized. Officers were elected and a plan of action was outlined, which included a proposition to appoint committees of ten to canvass the field of merchants and grocers and learn who are in sympathy with the movement and who oppose it. If necessary, it is proposed to throw all the trade of the men interested in the movement to one merchant in the city, or failing in this, to purchase all provisions in some other city or town. It is not believed, however, that this course will be necessary. Meetings will be held weekly and the fight will be continued upon more vigorous lines in the future than it was in the past.

GETS GOOD POSITION.

The many friends of Joseph E. Jones will be surprised to learn that he is going to leave the city. He has been appointed foreman of the tin and copper department of the Big Four shops in Mattoon, Ill., and is now en route to that city to assume the office tomorrow. The position affords a good salary, much better than did the position Mr. Jones held with the Wabash for three years. He was foreman of the tin shop of the company, resigning two or three weeks ago.

BACK IN HIS OLD POSITION.

After an absence of three years, Frank Frary is again working in the Wabash machine shop. He is considered one of the best locomotive machinists in the city and no doubt General Foreman W. F. Yeargens is glad to get his services again. Since leaving the Wabash Mr. Frary has been employed at the works of the Indiana Machine company. He learned his trade at the Wabash shops and was employed there over a quarter of a century.

BUSY AT FREIGHT HOUSE.

Saturday and Sunday were busy days at the Pittsburg freight house, the men there handling in those days 3,420,600 pounds. On the western division on those days there were handled sixty-two freight trains each, or a total of 124 trains. At the freight house yesterday there were unloaded 104 cars and loaded 85 cars, making a total of 189 cars.

DON'T THROW UP YOUR JOB.

Last Saturday The Sentinel stated that agents were in the city seeking skilled workmen for manufacturers in other cities, and in connection with the notice this paper advised men to hold on to present positions until they have positive assurances that they will better their condition by going elsewhere. These columns contain notices nearly every day of men returning here, after a short residence and experience elsewhere, and this should be proof sufficient that Fort Wayne is one of the best labor markets in the country. In conversation with a railway shop foreman this morning, The Sentinel representative was informed that this foreman and others were greatly annoyed by men leaving. "We train them and no sooner get them at a point where they are of service to us when some one entices them away by promise of better wages, a promise that they keep only for a little while. Hardly a day passes that I do not receive at letter from a former employe, who left us under these conditions and found that he made a mistake. The fellow proved unfaithful once and, of course, I am not sure that he may not do so again if the opportunity arrises, and do not answer his letter unless badly in need of a man." Again, The Sentinel would urge all mechanics and others to turn a deaf ear to the agent who endeavors to get them to move to another city under promise of employment.

HAD A FINGER CRUSHED.

William Murray, a machinist at the Wabash shops, had the second finger of his right hand crushed beneath the edge of a driver box he was handling last Saturday. He will not lose the finger, but the injury will prevent him working for a week or two.

HAND NEARLY SAWED OFF.

Fred Kiel, of 193 Force street, an employe of the Gilmartin planing mills, had his right hand nearly severed from the arm at noon today, while working about a buzz saw. Dr. C. C. F. Neischang, who attended the unfortunate man, believes that the hand can be saved, though it may never be as strong as it was before the accident.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The elevation of its tracks in Chicago will cost the Lake Shore company $4,000,000.

Last Saturday the Fort Wayne Electric company loaded for shipment to Grand Forks, N. D., a sixty-light arc machine and fifty of Mr. Wood's latest arc lamps; also a switchboard and all the trimmings for a plant.

Blacksmith Henry Bickness, who had been sick, resumed his duties in the Pittsburg shops this morning. F. E. Rehling, a hammer boy, who was also sick a few days, reported at that shop for work this morning.

William M. Slater is spending a few days in the city with his family. Mr. Slater is now engaged in mining business in West Virginia and is on the road in the interest of the firm of which he is a member most of the time.

Frank Metzler has taken a position in the tin shop of the Pennsylvania company. Ed C. McGaw, John Frazier and Peter Reynolds have taken positions in the roundhouse. Michael Kelley has been transferred from the machine shop to the roundhouse.

Brakeman Harry Russell, of the Nickel Plate, went to Chicago yesterday, upon receipt of news of the death of his brother, which occurred in that city Saturday night. The deceased was formerly a railway employe and once resided in this city.

After a service of twelve years, J. J. Henderson retired Saturday from the agency of the Adams Express company at Indianapolis. This is the position to which C. T. Austin, of this city, was appointed last week, as stated by The Sentinel last Thursday.

William Booner, general western and division freight agent of the Pennsylvania, and his assistant, A. H. Downs, will make their regular monthly trip over the western division this week, leaving Chicago Wednesday morning on a special train.

Nelson Ritchie and Frank Gilmartin have resigned their positions at the Electric works and will leave in a few days for the City of Mexico, where they are promised better positions. Frank Merz, Louis Schaub and George Harter are new employes at the works.

The factory of the Anthony Wayne Manufacturing company is now running ten hours per day. It had been running twelve hours per day, but owing to a threatened shortage in lumber, it was deemed best to reduce the working hours until the lumber supply has been replenished.

Assistant Foreman Frank Mannix resumed his day duties in the Pittsburg machine shops this morning, after two weeks' service at nights in the round house. The moderated weather has lessened the troubles in the round house and there is no longer a necessity for Mr. Mannix's services there.

The frame dwelling house which occupied the lot on Hanna street, near the Bass foundry, and owned by the Pennsylvania company, is being moved to South Lafayette, near Pontiac. It is understood that the Pennsylvania company will erect a building for storage purposes on the ground that is now being vacated.

William Olivers, a night trackman at the Pittsburg freight house, is sick and off duty.

Ernest Heuer, assistant foreman of the Wabash boiler shops, is confined to his home by sickness today.

After an illness of two weeks H. J. Motherwell, a timber at the Pittsburg shops, is able to report for duty.

C. L. Hobrock, shipping clerk at the Pittsburg shops, who was sick a portion of last week, reported for duty this morning.

Pittsburg Fireman G. R. Erdman has handed in his resignation to Mr. Colmey. He will return to his trade, that of a brickmaker.

Pennsylvania trains from the east were late today, No. 5 coming in at 7:10 and No. 21 at 1:10, both three hours behind schedule time.

Passenger Conductor Kinsey Kimmel, of the Pennsylvania, handled a freight train yesterday, there being a shortage of freight crews.

J. H. Berning, a helper in the Pittsburg machine shop, reported for work this morning after a week's absence on account of sickness.

General Manager J. H. P. Hughart, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, passed through the city this morning, en route from Pittsburg to his home.

Yesterday Pennsylvania train No. 21 had special car "Emmelita," carrying the general manager of the Southern Pacific and his party from the east to Chicago.

Conductor F. M. Mauk, of the Pittsburg, suffered a slight relapse yesterday and as a consequence has been unable to leave his bed since. His condition is not such as to give alarm.

A. W. Thompson, J. H. Cody, W. Lepper and A. Krohne, Pittsburg shopmen, are sick. Shopmen C. H. Smith, G. C. Dierstein and H. Jacobs are off duty to attend to some private business.

Engineers Ira Burger and W. Slagle and Firemen I. A. Byall, L. F. Wood and W. A. Ury, of the Pittsburg, are sick and off duty. Fireman G. J. Allstyne, of the same road, is off duty on account of an accident.

THREE-CENT FARE DEFEATED

DETROIT LAW UPSET BY THE SUPREME COURT.

Highest Tribunal Says Ordinance Was Irregular—Five Cent Ordinance a Contract.

Washington, March 3.—In a decision rendered in the United States supreme court today it was held that the ordinance enacted by the city government of Detroit, Mich., arbitrarily reducing street car fares to three cents, was irregular and without binding effect. This decision was based upon the fact that previous ordinances had been passed fixing the street car fares at five cents. These original ordinances were construed by the court to be in the nature of contracts. The opinion was delivered by Justice Peckham and affirmed the opinion of the United States court for the eastern district of Michigan.

WOULD NOT WED NEPHEW.

Waterbury, Conn., March 3.—Mrs. Annie Nelson, aged and wealthy, is a guest at the Hotel Beloit, New Britain, awaiting the arrival of relatives from Chicago, who are to see that she returns home in safety. She has $2,000 on her person. "I came to New Britain," she says, "at the request of a man whom I met in Chicago and with the intention of becoming his wife, although I am seventy-six years of age and he is much younger. When I got here I discovered the smooth-tongued stranger was a nephew and that my money was the consideration. I have refused to become his wife and have sent to Chicago for friends to take me home. I am too old to travel alone." The nephew is well known in New Britain, but strenuously denies these allegations and insists he only wanted to give his aged relative a home. Mrs. Nelson some time ago created a sensation by disappearing from a railroad train en route east and detectives scoured the country, finding finally that she changed cars at the wrong place and wandered into another state. It is alleged that this same nephew was on the train with her when she disappeared.

CHRISTIAN A. KRAMER DEAD

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN AND FORMER COUNCILMAN.

Mrs. Jacob Coulter, of Arcola, is No More—Other Deaths and Funerals of the Day.

Christian A. Kramer, a life-long citizen of Fort Wayne, former member of the council from the First ward and widely and favorably known, died at his home, 1106 East Wayne street, Sunday afternoon, shortly after 3 o'clock.

Though in feeble health for some time, Mr. Kramer's death was unexpected. He had been a sufferer from stomach and liver trouble, but remained at work until shortly before the holidays. Since that time he had remained at home, and arose as usual Sunday morning, but an hour later was taken suddenly ill. Despite the ministrations of physicians and friends, he declined steadily until the end came. Mr. Kramer was 54 years of age.

He was a native of Fort Wayne, born January 23, 1848, and his entire life was spent in this city. For five years he was in the employ of Christian Orff, and then entered the service of Root & Co., where he remained for seventeen years. Then he retired to enter business for himself, on Lafayette street, but two years later returned to the Root dry goods house, remaining about four years. He was last employed as storekeeper for Charles Falk & Co.

Mr. Kramer was united in marriage December 10, 1874, to Miss Caroline Deuter, who survives, together with three children—Fred, Albert and Miss Clara Kramer, all at home. Other relatives include his aged mother, four brothers and three sisters—F. C. Kramer, of Chicago; August Kramer, of Brooklyn; Adolph Kramer, of Chicago; William F. Kramer, of this city; Mrs. H. Kruse, of this city; Mrs. H. Guenther, of this city, and Mrs. Rev. Bartel, of Mobile, Ala. Mr. Kramer was a most estimable citizen and had a very wide circle of friends.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from St. Paul's Lutheran church.

COULTER.

Mrs. Jacob Coulter died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at her home in Arcola, after an extended illness. Mrs. Coulter was about 47 years of age and her death was due to a complication of diseases.

She was a most estimable woman, possessing in a marked degree the admirable graces of lofty womanhood, was widely known and had many friends. The family is one of the most prominent in that section of the county. The bereaved husband is widely known as a lumberman and the family have many friends in Fort Wayne. Surviving are the husband and six children—John, Will and the Misses Blanche, Maude, Helen and Ethel Coulter, all at home. There are also two brothers and three sisters—Alfred Crawford, of this city; Nelson Crawford, residing in Chicago; Mrs. Stratton, whose home is in Missouri; Mrs. Sauder, of North Dakota, and another sister residing in Missouri.

Mrs. Coulter was a devoted member of the M. E. church and the funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Foster officiating.

BIEBER.

BURNS—BAKER.

The marriage of Miss Lizzie Baker, of 56 New Haven avenue, to James Burns, a boilermaker employed in the Wabash shops, took place at the home of Jacob Ahner, pastor of the German Baptist church, at his home on Walton avenue on Saturday evening. The wedding celebration occurred Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, the guests being relatives and intimate friends of the couple. A wedding dinner was served, after which the guests enjoyed a musicale.

THINKS ROBBERY WAS INTENDED.

On Saturday Edward Nietert, a jeweler doing business at the corner of Harmer and Washington streets, received a letter requesting him to meet a person unknown to him at some down-town point. He did not know the person whose name was attached to the letter and paid no attention to it. On Saturday night other persons outside his store observed two strangers loitering about the front of the store and one was overheard to remark to the other: "I guess it's off; he's still there—he don't look as though he intended to go." The men soon after went away. Nothing further was thought of the matter until today after it became known that an attempt had been made to rob the soap works on the same night. The men who overheard the conversation then reported what they had heard to Mr. Nietert, who is of the opinion that the latter was a decoy to get him away from his place of business so that a robbery might be perpetrated upon his establishment. Late this afternoon Mr. Nietert said he would turn the entire matter over to the police department. As it is, however, no attempt upon his store was made to his knowledge.

The annual meeting of the Rome City Cottagers' association will be held next Monday evening in the offices of Charles W. Orr, 132 East Berry street. New officers will be elected at this meeting.
